North Platte Parents Meet Hermit Son

NORTH PLATTE PAIR VISITS HERMIT SON

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher P. Farrell of North Platte, Neb., pause outside the psychiatric unit of Los Angeles County General Hospital en route to a visit with their son Dennis, 32, who recently ended a 6-year hermitage in Griffith Park. They are holding a newspaper picture taken as the gaunt, bearded Korean war veteran talked to a friend. The parents said they were satisfied with the treatment their son was receiving and that Dennis was satisfied to stay in the hospital.

Los Angeles (AP)—The hermit of Griffith Park and his parents met Wednesday for the first time in 6 years.

Christopher P. Farrell, street commissioner of North Platte, Neb., and his wife wept as they embraced their gaunt, 32-year-old son Dennis.

The meeting was in a room of the psychiatric unit of Los Angeles County General Hospital. Dennis showed little emotion. He will be given a sanity hearing Friday.

Dennis came out of the 4,200-acre city park Monday night. The Korean War combat veteran says he took up the life of a hermit 5 years ago because he could see no future in things and thought the world was going to pot.

He lived in caves and brush and subsisted on berries, fruits and picnic scraps.

Dennis was seized by police last April 4 on suspicion of prowling but was allowed to go back to the park.

Dennis looked different than when he left the park. Hospital attendants shaved his flowing beard and cut his long hair.

A hospital spokesman said Dennis came out of his confused state at intervals and conversed with his parents.

"I do not intend to interfere in any way with what is being done to help my son," said the father. "There would be no object in opposing the petition (for a sanity hearing) since Dennis is receiving excellent care and I have no desire to interrupt treatment that will be given him here in the hospital."

The father asked Dennis if he wanted to go back to North Platte.

The son replied that he knew he needed help and was satisfied to remain in the hospital.

The parents said Dennis disappeared from their home without explanation 6 years ago. They said they did not know whether he was alive until last April.

Wave Of Strikes Idles Thousands ...As Steel Firms, Workers Tussle

By The Associated Press

A sudden wave of strikes, several of them unauthorized, idled upward of 30,000 workers across the country Wednesday.

Wildcat walkouts in the steel industry accounted for about 25,000 workers who stayed off the job in 3 steel plants despite an agreement to extend their contract to July 14. Later, however, some 7,000 called off the strike at one plant.

The strikes erupted as negotiators for the United Steelworkers of America (USW) and 12 major steel firms strove in New York to reach an agreement on a new contract. The old contract would have expired at midnight Tuesday.

Ordered To Return

The union termed the strikes unauthorized and directed the workers to return to their jobs.

About 7,000 workers at U.S. Steel Corp.'s big Fairless works at Morrisville, Pa., acceded to the union's demands and called off the work stoppage they had engineered earlier.

But wildcat strikes continued at two other steel plants.

Around 13,000 production workers were idled at the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. plant in Aliquippa, Pa. Pickets displayed placards proclaiming "no contract—no work." Wednesday night, however, they voted to end the stoppage and return to work as soon as possible.

In Cleveland, more than 8,000 production workers were idled by a strike at Republic Steel Corp.'s Independence road plant. The plant was forced to shut down.

Sailors Walk Out

In another phase of the steel picture, some 3,700 Great Lakes sailors began leaving their jobs on iron ore carriers at various ports. The seamen are members of the steelworkers union. They transport raw material to steel mills.

The seamen's strike was sanctioned by Local 5000 of the USW, with headquarters in Cleveland. Officials of the local said it was not a party to the contract extension in the basic steel industry, although its members are covered by the overall agreement.

The strike of ore boat men forced U. S. Steel's Oliver iron mining division to close its Minnesota Mesabi Range mining operations for the remainder of the week.

Elsewhere, the Public Service Co. of Indiana was hit by a strike of some 1,400 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in a contract dispute. The utility serves the southern two-thirds of the state. Company officials said there would be no interruption of service to its 360,000 customers despite the walkout.

Aircraft Plant Strike

Another contract dispute idled 2,500 production workers at Cessna Aircraft Co. in Wichita, Kan. The strikers walked out of the plant after their contract expired and while union and management negotiators were striving to reach a new agreement.

In Texas City, Tex., about 1,300 members of the oil, chemical and atomic workers union left their jobs at the American Oil Co. in a dispute over a new contract. The old one expired at midnight Tuesday.

A contract controversy also idled some 500 Houston, Tex., truck drivers who deliver about 95% of the city's bread production.

3-I MAY SPLIT ITS SEASON

Directors of the Three-I League have been called into a special meeting at Cedar Rapids Thursday to discuss a possible split season for the Class B loop.

Lincoln, Topeka, Des Moines and Green Bay, the first division clubs, are definitely against the split.

For details, see sports pages 21 and 22.

CHILL ENDS BUT MORE RAIN LIKELY

Warmer temperatures are in sight for Nebraskans Thursday with predicted highs in the 80s.

However, umbrella weather has not ended for the western and central portions of the state. The weatherman predicts thunderstorms in the extreme west Thursday afternoon moving into the central and western portions Thursday night.

Lincoln's low temperature Wednesday, 52 at 3:30 a.m., tied the record low for July 1. The 52 degree low had been on the books since 1930.

Adams County Reports 18-Fold Bond Increase

By Betty Person

Nebraska's 1959 valuation of stocks and bonds took another leap upward Wednesday as Adams County reported a total of $18,154,385 for this year, compared with the $961,740 reported in that county on its 1958 returns.

Valuation abstracts from 18 more counties processed through State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington's office added $1,229,633,146 to the state's actual value in tangible property, bringing the total thus far from 39 counties to $2,590,537,287.

This is $108,977,032 more than the actual value of such property reported by the same 39 counties in 1958.

The total of Class A intangibles (cash, book accounts) reported in the 39 counties tabulated thus far is $144,062,127 in 1959, compared with $109,805,021 reported in 1958, an increase of $34,257,106.

Class B intangibles (stocks and bonds) reported in the 39 counties totals $86,875,216 this year, compared with $36,631,157 last year, an increase of $50,244,059.

Many counties have reported as much as 3 and 4 times more in stocks and bonds this year but Adams County's figure is more than 18 times over what was reported in 1958.

Held Hearings

Herrington conducted a hearing at Hastings (Adams county seat) last fall when he questioned the 1958 returns of several individuals who had not reported all of their stocks and bonds for taxation purposes.

Strict tax enforcement laws passed by the 1959 Legislature, whereby past omissions are being forgiven, but any future omissions will be penalized to the hilt, are credited with the astronomical leaps in property reporting.

The 18 new counties reporting Wednesday were (figures in parentheses represent 1958 figures):

Adams: tangible property $146,474,710 ($140,834,805); Class A intangibles $13,983,135 ($8,084,365), and Class B intangibles $18,154,385 ($961,740).

Gov. Long Reveals Plan To Adopt Texas Boy, 14

. . . Doctors Fear Heart Ailment

Covington, La. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long announced plans Wednesday to adopt a 14-year-old boy with whom he played poker in a Texas hospital. But the youth's parents said they have not agreed to the adoption.

Meanwhile, one of 4 doctors treating the Louisiana governor disclosed Wednesday night Long's heart is now failing slightly.

Dr. Victor Lief, Tulane University medical school internal medicine specialist, said there was nothing to indicate the governor had a coronary attack. But, he said, doctors are concerned about the 63-year-old Long's heart condition.

Earlier, in an exclusive 6-hour interview with the Associated Press, the governor said the parents of David Rankin of Texas City had consented to adoption.

The governor, who has filed a separation suit from his 58-year-old wife, Blanche, explained:

Reciprocal Liking

"He got to likin' me and I got to likin' him. I've always wanted a son. Well, I've wanted a daughter, too, but I can't chaperon one under the present circumstances."

Long has sued his wife for separation and she has sued for divorce.

Long said he met David when they were both patients at John Sealy hospital in Galveston, Tex. He said they played a lot of poker and dominoes.

But in Texas City, across the bay from Galveston, David's parents said it was "untrue" they agreed to the adoption.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rankin.

Ran Errands

"It's true that David and Gov. Long got to be good friends at the hospital," the father said. "David had certain privileges that the governor did not have at the hospital and was able to do certain acts of kindness."

Rankin and his wife said Gov. Long telephoned David last Friday and invited the boy to visit him in Louisiana.

David is still considering the invitation and has made no definite plans, the parents said, adding that he will be permitted to make his own decision on whether to accept.

"But as for any adoption, the family has no such intent and neither does David," the father declared.

Rankin said high blood pressure sent David to the Galveston hospital for treatment and his condition improved enough that the boy was able to leave there before Gov. Long did.

The father is a supervisor in the power department of a chemical plant.

Rankin agreed with the governor that David and Gov. Long took a fancy to one another.

"If he stays here (Baton Rouge), any time he wants to go home, he can go" Long said.

Vic Reports On Atlantic Congress Held In London

By Sam Hall

Former Gov. Victor E. Anderson returned late Wednesday night from the NATO-sponsored Atlantic Congress in London and "a very wonderful" trip through parts of Europe.

Anderson

The congress brought together 130 citizen representatives from the 15 NATO nations in an exchange of views and plans for the future.

Commenting on the 8-day meeting, Anderson told The Star that the major topic of discussion centered around the establishment of a NATO court system.

Presently, he said, NATO nations use the "sometimes slow world court system to settle treaties and other legal disputes." The separate court system, he pointed out, would speed up the settlement of these disputes.

"The congress," Anderson stated, "resolved not to give an inch on the West Berlin dispute."

After the congress Anderson visited West Berlin at the invitation of city's government. From there he toured parts of Sweden, France and Denmark.

In Denmark Anderson met with former Nebraska Governor Val Peterson, who is now U.S. Ambassador to that country.

"The economy in all the countries is prosperous," he said. "In West Berlin they are living as well as the people in the Unied States. But they are constantly in fear of another Russian blockade."

2% Unemployed

Unemployment in England, he noted, is only 2% as compared to an average 4% in the U.S.

Anderson was accompanied on the trip by Howard Agee, former Lincolnite who is now an equipment company executive in Omaha. The two sailed home on the Queen Mary.

Glad to be home, Anderson said, "Even though Europe was wonderful, I saw nothing there that I would trade for the United States."

Mutual Broadcasting System Broke

New York (UPI) — The Mutual Broadcasting System, Inc., filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition Wednesday and was given permission to continue operating while it works out settlements with its creditors.

U.S. bankruptcy referee Asa Herzog set a meeting of company officials and creditors for July 13.

The outstanding stock in Mutual was acquired by radio commentator Robert F. Hurleigh, of Bethesda, Md., before the bankruptcy petition was filed in bankruptcy court. The board of directors named Hurleigh president Wednesday morning.

Stock Passed

Hurleigh's attorney said a group backing Hurleigh had transferred all their stock to him, putting him in sole control pending action in bankruptcy court.

Later, Hurleigh said that when financier Alexander Guterma quit as head of Mutual, the network was losing $100,000 a month. Losses since then have been cut almost in half, Hurleigh said, and he expected they could be slashed still further.

Owes $3 Million

The bankruptcy petition, filed under federa' laws, listed assets of $579,607 and liabilities of more than $3 million for the radio network.

The company was organized in 1935 by several radio companies. Later it became an independent broadcaster affiliated with 425 stations across the country.

Plane Crash Kills 10 Continental Can Officials

Marion, Ohio (AP)—Eight business executives and two crew members were believed killed late Wednesday in the crash of a company-owned airliner near here.

The plane plowed into a wheat field, demolishing the craft and apparently burying most of the victims under the dirt. Only parts of bodies were found.

In New York a spokesman for Continental Can Co. said the plane evidently was one owned by the firm that was missing on a flight from New York to Chicago with 10 men aboard.

Eight were top executives of the firm.

B26 Plane

The plane was believed to be a two-engine coverted B26, an aircraft of that description took off from Chicago's midway airport.

A B26 reported by radio to Marion municipal airport here that it was flying over Findlay in northwest Ohio, trying to skirt a thunderstorm north of Marion.

Continental Can said the passengers were en route back to New York from a meeting of company executives in Chicago.

A firm spokesman listed them as:

Abbot W. Sherwood, sales manager; J. R. Wallace, produce sales manager; R. I. Weimerskyirch, manager of products and materials; W. J. Mutshler, general manager of production engineering; J. M. Kelly, manager of production engineering; M. D. Sainbine, general manager of the eastern district; H. G. Schier, production engineer for equipment and maintenance, and J. de Blier, plant manager at Passaic, N. J.

Ike Demands A Balanced Budget

Washington (AP)— President Eisenhower demanded of Congress Wednesday not only a budget balance in the new fiscal year, but a surplus permitting some reduction in the record national debt.

Telling his news conference inflation will be a major election issue in 1960, Eisenhower said he would be delighted if Congress can find proper ways to cut spending below his 77 billion dollar budget.

In effect, he was serving notice on the Democratic-controlled Congress that the Republicans expect to preempt inflation as their own issue in the presidential election year.

He recalled that 1958 brought a Democratic sweep in the congressional elections despite his campaign against "irresponsible spending," leading him to believe that people were "not too much concerned by inflation."

"But I think they have changed their minds," he added.

Eisenhower told newsmen:

—He'll keep hands off the choice of a 1960 Republican presidential nominee. He hinted he has a preference—and few doubted it was Vice President Nixon.

—He cannot agree with Soviet Foreign Monister Andrei Gromyko that the stalled Geneva conference of foreign ministers has made any progress that justifies a summit meeting. Russia still must prove by deeds, Eisenhower said, that it wants a summit session to further world peace.

—This country will not try to pacify the unrest and uprising in Central America; it is up to the Organization of American States to take whatever action is needed.

—He expected some more serious talks here with visiting Russian Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov — more serious, that is, than the non-political words they exchanged at the opening of the Soviet national exhibition in New York Monday.

The question whether the White House will intervene again in the deadlocked steel wage dispute, if that seems necessary to head off the strike threatened July 15, never got asked.

Scientist Compton Undergoes Surgery

St. Louis (AP)—Dr. Arthur Holly Compton, 66-year-old scientist who was a leader in the development of the atomic bomb, successfully underwent abdominal surgery Wednesday. A Barnes Hospital spokesman said his condition was good.

A spokesman said the condition of the Nobel Prize winner was good. He was operated for an aneurism in the abdominal portion of the aorta, principal arterial blood vessel of the heart.

Springdale, Ark.—

Girl, 6, Missing; Police Say 'Someone Got Her'

Springdale, Ark. (AP) — About 900 searchers fanned out around this small northwest Arkansas town Wednesday night in a hunt for a little girl who disappeared on her way home from the store.

The child, Barbara Ann Wentz, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Wentz of Springdale, was last seen carrying two bundles of groceries along a street near her home, police said. Later, a sack of candy was found near the spot.

No Groceries

The groceries were nowhere around.

Police said "It looks like somebody got her." They spread an alarm to adjacent Oklahoma and Missouri, and sheriff's deputies and state police joined the search.

Carolyn Guest, 12, playmate of the missing child, told police she saw Barbara talking to three young men and a young woman in a blue and white automobile, near the grocery store.

The girl's mother Mrs. Wentz said she sent Barbara to the store at 5:30 p.m. (CST).

'Hurry Back'

Doris Wentz, 16, the child's sister, said the little girl, a second-grade student, had been told "to hurry right back."

"She wouldn't get into a car with anybody—they'd have to take her," the girl said.

Barbara was described as weighing 60 pounds, with brown eyes, reddish-brown hair and with two missing front teeth.

Washington County Deputy Sheriff Charles Honey said officers are dragging ponds near Springdale. He said searchlights and walkie-talkies were being used in searching wooded areas.

Honey said police were questioning "all knwn sex deviates" in the area.

Senate Unit Hikes Funds For Defense

Washington (UPI)—A Senate appropriations subcommittee Wednesday approved a $39.7 billion defense spending bill carrying increased funds to build a second atomic-powered aircraft carrier, boost Marine Corps strength and modernize the Army.

Chairman Dennis Chavez (D-NM) announced that the group voted about $500 million more than President Eisenhower requested and $900 million more than the House provided in its version of the big defense bill.

Chavez said the full Senate Appropriations Committee would act next Tuesday on the bill, which provides funds for the armed services in the fiscal year that started Wednesday.

Chavez said the money bill, always the largest of the year, provided:

— $380 million to build a second nuclear-powered attack carrier. The administration had asked for a $260 million conventionally-powered carrier.

— $43 million to give the Marine Corps 200,000 men rather than the 175,000 requested by the President and approved by the House.

— $400 million more than the President sought for modernization of Army weapons and development of the Army's Nike-Zeus anti-missile rocket.

JUNE LOSING APPEAL FOR MARRIAGES

Only 152 marriage licenses were issued last month by the office of Lancaster County Judge Herbert A. Ronin. This is the fewest in at least the last 7 years.

Last year there were 158 licenses issued in June. June totals for other years: 1957, 165; 1956, 175; 1955, 170; 1954, 159; and 1953, 163. Records were unavailable prior to 1953.

Albert Is Voted Wedding Gift: $70,000 A Year

Burssels, Belgium (AP)—Parliament gave Prince Albert a wedding present of $70,000 a year on the eve of his marriage to an Italian princess. The present kicked up a parliamentary uproar.

The government coalition of Social Christians and Liberal Conservatives cast 114 votes in favor of the annual grant. The Socialists, 2 Communists and 2 Social Christians recorded 81 votes against. The Socialists said the Constitution makes no provision for such grants.

The unexpected opposition on the eve of Europe's most spectacular royal wedding in years sounded a sour note in a symphony of public acclaim.

Albert, 25, brother of King Baudouin and heir presumptive to the throne, has chosen for his bride the Princess Paola Ruffo di Calabria, a blue-eyed blonde of 21 whose families title goes back more than 380 years.

Police have erected barricades because they expect trouble in controlling the happy mobs Thursday.

Nixon Is Shown In Soviet Press

Moscow (UPI) —The Soviet press gave prominent play Wednesday to glowing reports of the Soviet exhibition in New York and gave readers their first look at pictures of Vice-President Richard Nixon who is scheduled to come here the end of the month.

The official Communist Party newspaper Pravda, the government publication Izvestia, and other Soviet papers devoted one-sixth of total space to articles on the Soviet exhibition at the Coliseum in New York.

Flood Toll Put At 250

. . . IN COLOMBIA

From Press Reports

Ibague, Colombia—The government said Wednesday night 153 bodies have been recovered in the aftermath of a flash flood that swept the village of Las Juntas near here Tuesday night.

Officially the number of dead is estimated at 250. Forty-eight houses were destroyed.

The federal government appropriated two million pesos ($250,000) for relief in this central Colombian area, and a large shipment of foodstuffs was sent by CARE, the U.S. relief agency.

Survivors said the roaring of the floodwaters became audible only seconds before the arrival of the flood crest, leaving no time to warn the sleepers.

Libraries Ask $229,520 For Next Year's Budget

A Lincoln City Libraries budget of $229,520 has been proposed for 1959-60, according to Director Charles Dalrymple.

The budget, which is $483 lower than last year, requests that library employes be given equal consideration in any salary increases granted other city employes.

The City Employes Association has requested a general boost of $25 per month.

Dalrymple noted the budget does not include any capital improvements, contrasted to last year's budget which provided for part of the new Bethany branch building.

He said the budget does not include more money to expand book collections because of lack of space facilities.

Dalrymple said the need for a new main library, estimated at $1,177,000 including site, has not diminished and remains a high priority item.

'Richest' Kansan Dies After Crash

. . . Had Grain Interests In Lincoln, Hastings

McPherson, Kan., — Raymond Hugh Garvey of Wichita, reputedly the wealthiest man in Kansas and holder of large grain interests in Lincoln and Hastings died of injuries suffered in a car-truck smashup.

Garvey, who was 66, died in McPherson County hospital of a skull fracture Tuesday about eight hours after the accident on U.S. 81 bypass near McPherson, according to the Associated Press.

Investigators said Garvey and two Wichita associates were southbound on the bypass and their car ran under the bed of a southbound truck which had stopped to make a left turn, the AP reported.

Raymond Garvey

Garvey's interests were described as including the largest privately owned system of grain storage facilities in the world, the largest privately owned oil drilling company in Kansas, several hundred producing oil wells including some in Banner and Kimball Counties in Nebraska, a 100,000-acre farm operation, a service station chain and mortgage company.

C.G.F. Grain Is Interest

The Garvey elevator interests in Nebraska include the Garvey Elevator Co., Inc., Hastings, with seven million bushels of storage capacity; the Lincoln Grain Co., Lincoln, with several million bushels capacity and the C.G.F. Grain Co., Lincoln, with 14 million bushels capacity. The firm headquarters is Wichita.

Garvey originally practiced law at Colby, Kan., and started a real estate operation on $500. As his business interest grew he abandoned his law practice.

He was a stockholder and president of Petroleum Inc., which has done extensive drilling in the Nebraska Panhandle and also in Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and Texas, according to R. J. Crawford, general manager of grain operations of C.G.F. Grain Corp. in Topeka, Kan.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Olive Garvey, two sons, James of Colby, Kan., and Willard of Wichita, and two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Fink of Topeka and Mrs. Olivia Lincoln of Colby, Kan.

Nixon Draws Kozlov Into Spirited Debate

Washington (AP) — Vice-President Richard Nixon Wednesday night took on Soviet Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov in a rough and tumble foreign policy debate. Before it ended the Soviet leader conceded he was wrong in claiming the U.S. made Russia pay for starvation relief after World War I.

The unexpected exchange took place at a formal diplomatic reception sponsored by Nixon in the President's guest house. Secretary of State Christian Herter at one point joined Nixon in giving Kozlov a lesson in history.

Nixon and Herter joined forces in a frank give and take with a slightly shaken Kozlov as perspiring guests, including newsmen, eavesdropped and a Marine band played sweet music.

Kozlov, it was learned, had complained a few hours earlier to President Eisenhower that the American attitude toward Russia was reflected in U.S. relief shipments to Russia just after the Bolsheviks took power some 40 years ago.

The U.S. at that time forced Soviet Russia to pay in gold for the food needed to fend off famine, he claimed.

But when the argument ended Kozlov had conceded there was no denying that the U.S. shipments of food for starving Russians represented an outright gift approved by Congress.

During the spirited hour-long discussion, the Soviet first deputy premier never lost his smile. Neither did Nixon or Herter. Nixon was Kozlov's main antagonist in the debate. Herter joined in briefly.

The debate broke like a sudden squall in the midst of the usual polite diplomatic exchanges. It was the nearest Washington equivalent to date of the lusty give and take exchanges which have marked parties in Moscow under Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Earlier in the day Kozlov had talked with President Eisenhower and reportedly stuck to Kremlin demands that the Western allies get out of Berlin. Eisenhower and other administration leaders were reported to be reiterating just as firmly their pledge to remain in the Communist-encircled city.

Eisenhower and Kozlov reviewed the East-West deadlock in a confidential 70-minute talk in the President's White House office.

Further Sparring

In the verbal fencing at the reception, Nixon also:

1. Told Kozlov he is "a hard man — you never answer a question."

2. Challenged the Soviet visitor to appear on an hour-long television interview with no holds barred. President Frank Stanton of the Columbia Broadcasting System, a guest, promptly offered the air time.

3. Pressed Kozlov to permit CBS to reopen its bureau in Moscow, closed down because the Kremlin objected to its news coverage.

"The difference between you and us is that you never have any arguments among yourselves," Nixon told Kozlov.

"We certainly do," Kozlov snapped back. "There is never a day when we do not argue among ourselves."

"The difference is," Nixon said, "we publicize ours, and you don't."

Pacifists Arrested At Mead

. . . 3 Scale Gate

Mead, Neb. (UPI)—Three pacifists were arrested by federal authorities Wednesday as they attempted to enter the Mead Ordnance Depot by climbing over a gate.

The 3 were rushed immediately to Omaha where misdemeanor charges of willfully entering a military reservation were filed against them.

The information containing the charges was filed against the Rev. A. J. Muste, 74, New York; Ross Anderson, 59, Americus, Ga., and Karl Meyers, 22, Chicago.

The information was drawn up by Deputy U.S. Atty. Dean Wallace and filed with U.S. District Judge Richard E. Robinson. Robinson set bond at $1,000 each.

Muste said he did not suppose the 3 would want bail. "I don't want anyone to put up one thousand dollars for me," he said.

Maximum penalty on the misdemeanor charge is 6 months imprisonment and a $500 fine. Because the violation is a misdemanor no hearing need be held before the U.S. commissioner, Wallace said. He said it probably would be a week or so before the 3 will appear in district court.

The 3 climbed over a wood and wire gate at the intercontinental ballistic missile launching base under construction here.

Muste, a slender man in his 70s, nimbly scaled the gate. Meyers crawled under a wire, while Anderson, with about an 8-inch beard, followed Muste over the gate.

Postal Figures Up

Holdrege, Neb.—Postal receipts here showed an increase of $8,390 at the end of the fiscal year over the same period a year ago, Postmaster Tom Morris has announced. Receipts for the year which ended June 28 totaled $93,836.

Free Newscasts From Equal Time Law: Demo Chief

Washington (UPI) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler joined the networks Wednesday in advocating that radio and television news programs be exempted from the "equal time" political requirement of the law.

Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, also told a House commerce subcommittee that a blackout of all political news coverage would result if stations were required to give equal time to candidates of "the Vegetarian Party or the Greenback Party."

Both Butler and Stanton testified in favor of legislation to offset the Federal Communications Commission's recent ruling that radio and television stations must give equal time even to minor party candidates if major candidates are featured in straight newscasts.

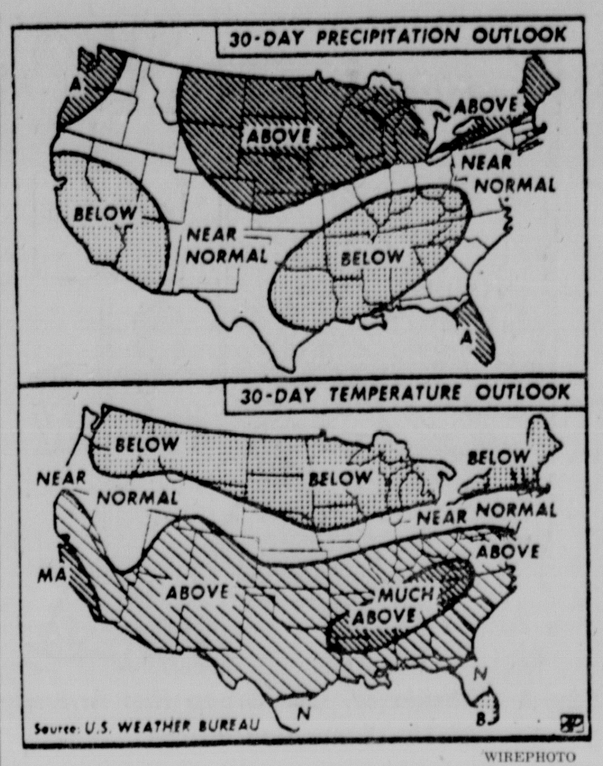

Property Sales Up $3 Million For 1st Half Year

More than $19.4 million worth of property changed hands in Lancaster County during the first 6 months of 1959, according to Register of Deeds Kenneth Ferguson.

This compares with about $16 million worth of property deeded during the first half of 1958, Ferguson said.

Both city and farm mortgages and mortgage releases also increased during the first six months of this year compared with the same period in 1958, he said.

Advance Warning

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

If Russia sent the first nuclear-powered aircraft into the sky tomorrow, it would create a terrific disturbance in this nation. It would be a case of Sputnik all over again. Congress would be calling for the Defense Department's scalp and the public would be scalping Congress, the administration and educators.

And there would be general mass attacks against the American's sense of values, his soft living and his failure to face reality. All this and more would come about as the result of Russia beating the U.S. again in a major field of science. To many, it would signal our ultimate defeat at the hands of Communism and there would be grave speculation about its effect upon our foreign relations. It would be hailed as a major propaganda achievement for the Russians as well as a serious threat to our security. In short, it would be the biggest blowup on the national scene since Sputnik flashed across the sky.

Big Score For Reds

Yes, we know all of this and we know Russia is working on a nuclear-powered plane. We know, too, that she has the technical skill to succeed in her quest. Yet, we choose to do nothing about it. Instead, the Defense Department reports to Congress that a nuclear-powered plane would cost this country at least $10 billion.

For this reason, the administration has refused to push the program — plans to spend about $150 million on nuclear-powered aircraft in the fiscal year just started. The important thing, then, is that the American people understand the situation so they will not be either surprised or disappointed when and if the Soviets beat us into the sky with nuclear power.

That such a Russian achievement would be a tremendous propaganda gain goes without saying. There is no doubt that it would greatly impress the uncommitted nations of the world with respect and admiration for the Reds' scientific prowess. While these and all the nations of the world have their own standards and principles, there is no doubt that they are also keenly aware of which appears to be the winning side—East or West.

In the event of conflict, they want to be on the winning side first and then will start thinking about the way of life this imposes upon them. The launching of any such craft by Russia would probably also raise a cry in this country against our educational system — a system which is producing expert automobile drivers, cooks, sportsmen, etc.

Actually, in this case such criticism might well be unfounded. As the situation now appears, it is not a question of U.S. ability to produce a nuclear-powered plane but, rather, of its desire to do so. If it wanted to spend the $10 billion-plus needed to get the job done, a nuclear-powered plane could be fired off in a comparatively short period of time.

Why this will not be done is quite obvious — the administration feels that the American people are not willing to support such a costly program on anything near a crash basis. It would mean either an increase in taxes or the elimination of many other governmental activities to get the nuclear-powered job done.

There is no indication that the public is willing to accept either of these alternatives.

Other Budget Demands

It would be disastrous to cut out foreign aid, the farm program cannot be completely ditched, the gigantic highway building program must continue, aid to airport construction goes on, resources development cannot be sacrificed, the interest on the national debt must be paid and there are many other defense needs now taking a big percentage of the national budget. And there is a constant pressure for lower taxes in the face of all demands. The two things put together simply spell austerity for anything like nuclear-powered airplanes.

Thus, if Russia ends up with an air force superior to ours, with missiles more advanced through refinement of propellent techniques, with the balance of world loyalties leaning its way, with industrial output forging ahead and with other achievements incidental to the perfection of nuclear flight, we cannot say we were not forewarned. Perhaps there are uncertainties which might color this picture one way or another but the risk we are taking is calculated and potentially disastrous.

"By A Coincidence, Our Group Has Arrived At The Same Conclusions"

Year Of Celebration

Just 350 years ago this summer a stocky, bearded Dutch navigator pushed the prow of his ship—the "Half Moon"—up along the west shore of Manhattan Island and officially discovered the Hudson River. It was an interesting discovery and he pushed on up past Albany, no doubt far enough to learn that the farther upstream one goes, the more Republican New York becomes.

Hudson's feat gets most emphasis because the Dutch settled New York under the name of New Amsterdam. The British got it away from them. And the line of succession comes down to us because we in turn got it away from the British and since then no one has been able to get it away from us, by George. Actually Samuel de Champlain explored the Hudson River the same year but profited politically out of it only by having an upstate lake named after him. Greatly earlier one Giovanni Verrazone made a run up the Hudson and christened Manhattan Island Angouleme in honor of the birthplace of Francis I of France. Nothing came of that, at all.

During the ensuing three months, that part of the United States served by the Hudson River will go in for an intense celebration. Nebraska will take due note of it, but reflecting, at the same time, that this part of the country didn't get in on early Atlantic Coast history. It arrived on the scene in 1803 via the Louisiana Purchase after slumbering along while under various flags of France and Spain. Had it not been for President Thomas Jefferson knowing a real estate bargain when he saw one, this region might today be as little interested in the Hudson as, say, in the right fork of the Volga.

But the Midwest is attracted to the general celebration in the northeast part of the country because of the Hudson and another great water carnival. This summer also marks the official opening of the St. Lawrence tidewater project which henceforth will permit ocean shipping to proceed as far inland as the Great Lakes ports.

No doubt Hudson's discovery of his river played an important role in the chain reaction which has us what we are today. But the waterway will be equally historic and significant for the good things it will do for our tomorrow.

Masters Loss Shows Need

The general public never knew a great deal about Assistant Police Chief Eugene Masters, simply because he was not in a position of public prominence. But Masters is one of the finest criminal investigators in the country and a man who can share a lot of the credit for the outstanding record of the Lincoln Police Department.

For this reason, the city is experiencing a substantial loss with Masters' retirement. It is a loss that will be felt time and again in future years. But there is more significance to his departure than just the loss of a key man within an important community organization. Masters must now be replaced and this will be done with a good man.

Criminals will not go on a rampage now that Masters is leaving. There are other fine men on the Police Department who will see to that. But the hard facts are that there are not enough of them. Particularly, there are not enough young men coming along to fill the vacancies that will continue to come when men like Masters leave.

And there are not enough of these young men because the local law-enforcement salaries fail to make the profession attractive enough. A young man can hardly afford to spend 20 years of his life at a meager existence with the Police Department just to be around to pull the fat from the fire when the city needs him.

This is the kind of sacrifice we have no right to expect of the individual nor any reason to believe that he will make. A great deal could be said about this subject as a great deal is involved but it is hoped the City Council has the good judgment to recognize this and do something constructive about it—that is, raise police salaries.

Soil Bank Troubles

The Wall Street Journal has done a sort of case study of the soil bank in operation in northwestern Minnesota's Pennington County and come up with some interesting although not unexpected information. In general, the thing has turned out disastrously for the small rural towns of the area even though it has been to the liking of the farmers involved.

The effect on the towns has been to bring on what is beginning to amount to a serious depression. In many cases, the land placed in the soil bank has meant the purchase of less farm equipment — a vital part of the economy of these town areas. Also, the farmers with land in the soil bank have had time on their hands.

Thus, they have moved into the town labor markets at salaries well below the going rate. Where men were working for $2 an hour, these farmers are offering themselves for $1 an hour. This means lower wages and unemployment in the towns which in turn means a loss of business. Added to all this is the fact that the soil bank program has not had its desired end in cutting production.

Much of the land taken out of production was borderline insofar as its fertility and location were concerned. Much of it, also, was land previously devoted to crops other than wheat — the major surplus scourge. And where wheat land was taken out of production, farmers have doubled their efforts to make up the loss on other land. Also, new land has been cleared and contoured to take the place of that placed within the soil bank.

This is the brainstorm of Agricultural Secretary Ezra Taft Benson. Congress has appropriated $375 million for soil bank payments on the 1960 crop, as requested by the Eisenhower administration. But the administration is pressing for a $500 million appropriation in the future so that the present 23 million idled acres can be increased to 35 million. It will be interesting to see how long Congress will continue to follow this crazy-quilt pattern. Incidentally, it will also be costly for so long as it is continued.

Big Brass-Business Link Being Checked

WASHINGTON — Adm. John (Dutch) Will, a commander of the Military Sea Transport Service, resigns this week to become the president of American Export Lines, a company which has hauled a considerable amount of government freight assigned to it by the MSTS.

His retirement to head an important steamship company highlights the steady trek of admirals and generals into big business where they have close liaison with the military services they once commanded. Following exposes by Sen. Paul Douglas (Ill.) and Congressman Alfred Santangelo (N.Y.), Democrats, Congressman Eddie Hebert of Louisiana will begin an investigation of this close link between the big brass and big business.

Adm. Will, an efficient officer, has been quite close to American Export Lines in the past, went to New York to attend the dinner for John Geehan when he retired as president, has gone to various social functions with Mrs. Josephine Bey, chairman of the steamship company.

American Export Lines carries about 65 per cent of the U.S. government's military freight to the Middle East, all of it allocated through Adm. Will's MSTS.

When Adm. Will was asked about this, he admitted that this figure was probably correct, but explained that this was because American Export Lines was the chief U.S. company serving the Middle East. He added that MSTS freight allocations are recommended by the American Flag East Coast and Gulf Shipping Operations and MSTS merely accepts its recommendations.

What congressmen are interested in is the fact that an American admiral doing business, even indirectly, with an important shipping line, should now become president of that line. Adm. Will's position, they point out, is considerably different from that of Adm. Roscoe Hillenkoetter who is president of the American Banner Line. It does no business with MSTS.

Adm. Will will be drawing a retired admiral's full pension from the U.S. taxpayers and at the same time will be paid handsomely by the private shipping line which benefits from U.S. government shipping, again paid for by the taxpayers.

The Eisenhower administration claims that business has never been better. But to its embarrassment, Western Union has just complained to the Federal Communications Commission that business is so bad in Republican City, Nebraska, that their agency office was losing too much money there. The FCC agreed. Now telegraph service to Republican City, Neb., has been ordered discontinued.

Nixon Book Incites Warren To Words

WASHINGTON — Any idea that Vice-President Richard Nixon has outlived the controversy attached to his rough climb to power has been dissipated anew by the violent outburst of the Chief Justice of the United States against the latest Nixon biographer Earl Mazo, at a Washington party.

☆ ☆ ☆

Warren and Mazo had never met until the fateful party last week end and Warren had not read all of Mazo's book. But he had read the extensive excerpts published by Look Magazine and the critics' reviews.

In the prolonged and heated exchange, heard by many of the other guests, the Chief Justice made it clear that he felt Mazo had fallen hook, line and sinker for a Nixon line.

Mazo is an able and sunny-dispositioned reporter for the New York Herald Tribune who was asked by Harper's to do the Nixon book. He is amazed and grieved that the Chief Justice, a public figure whom, he says, he reveres, should be so upset by the end product.

Mazo had known at the start that politicians generally, and many others, felt strongly for or against Nixon. He did not expect to please everybody. He did think he had solved his problem by not taking a Mazo point of view toward his subject with his own special insights. Instead, he wrote what is essentially a documentary — careful, factual and thoroughly researched.

His reviews were, on the whole, excellent and his reputation as a good newspaperman and not a special pleader is intact. The buzzsaw he could not escape bears the simple legend, Nixon.

There is a great deal of conversation here today about "the ethics" of publishing stories developed at a purely social affair. The hosts, Correspondent Barnet Nover of the Denver Post and his wife, feel their silver wedding anniversary, the occasion for the fete, was all too memorable. But politicians and the press here move within the great white light that beats upon a throne, and such stories have been and always will be published soon or late.

In fact, it was upon the note of the responsibility a public man owes to history that the dramatic Warren-Mazo dispute ended, and it was Host Nover who diplomatically guided it into precisely that channel.

Mazo had complained that the Chief Justice had refused to talk to him about the book. The Chief Justice replied that he was "handcuffed" by his position on the court.

Nover conceded that the position was difficult but argued that every public figure owes to the public the true facts of what has happened. When the men who know the inside story have the facts upon which judgments can be based, they must yield to the greater good, he argued.

By a rather tumultuous means, the public now has at least one fact believed by Warren to be true. It is that the Nixon version of some recent history ain't necessarily so.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Keen Sensitivities In Harness

By BILL ANDERSON
Star Staff Writer

(Editor's Note: The sentry dog became a military legend after he first earned glory on bloody World War II battlefields. Today he stands guard over United States military property. This is the first in a two-part story about the sentry dog and his trainer at Lincoln Air Force Base).

A.2C H. J. Reid of Philadelphia, Pa., takes his companion dog, Griff, through the training hurdles. The dog is one of 27 German shepherds stationed at Lincoln Air Force Base.

A man and a dog step alertly beside the high fence surrounding the sprawling rectangle of buildings, runways and B-47s that lie silhouetted in the moonlight. The loud thunder of soaring jets has vanished with the daylight, and the night is hushed.

This is no ordinary man and dog. The man is an Air Force policeman and the dog is a trained sentry and potential killer.

The German shepherd, a huge 100-lb. watchdog, pricks up his ears and strains forward on a leash held in his handler's grasp. He growls and bares his razor-sharp teeth. The handler shouts a challenge and waits for an answer. No reply is heard.

"Go get him," the AP whispers to the dog. The shepherd leaps forward and attacks. This is his job, what he has learned to do after hundreds of hours of fierce training. He needs little coaxing.

The sentry dog is a vital link in the vast security screen hanging over Lincoln Air Force Base. His keen eyes, ears and nose fill the duties of five human guards.

The dogs are used only at night to patrol the remote outlying areas of the base. They and their human handlers work in shifts through the dark hours. The shepherd is always on leash and is muzzled while walking to and from the sentry area.

A sentry dog can sense an intruder as far as 300 yards away, if conditions are perfect. Under normal weather conditions, he is most effective at 150 yards.

The 27 shepherds stationed at LAFB are first trained at Lackland AFB in Texas before sent to duty at Lincoln. Training, however, continues daily to keep the dogs trim and alert.

They are not pampered. They have one friend, their handler, and so distrust all other men.

A sentry dog sleeps in a locked kennel on off-duty hours and is not allowed to leave the compound, a large wire-mesh enclosed area posted with danger signs.

The dog is 18 months old when the Air Force buys him from a breeder. He undergoes an intensive two-month training period before he can be considered ready for duty. His care and training cost the taxpayer more than $4,000, but the Strategic Air Command says the dog is expected to be duty-fit for at least five years.

The dog is kept on a strict diet and his weight is watched carefully. He eats four pounds of rations at one daily sitting and is allowed no more. Exercise keeps him slim and muscular.

The dogs at LAFB range from 60 to 100 pounds in weight. An airman from Massachusetts, Tech. Sgt. Charles Caples is in charge of their training. It's his job to oversee the development of the dogs and assure them of excellent care.

(Note: Training a sentry dog is an exciting and sometimes dangerous duty. Next week, "Man's Best Friend" will go into the compound for a blow-by-blow account of a sentry dog classroom exercise).

Quickie Tour Of Russia

NEW YORK — The Russians, who recently discovered the Cinerama process, have brought their first major presentation in that medium to Broadway. They call their process Kinopanorama. The initial effort is a Soviet travelogue and propaganda talk entitled "Great Is My Country."

We took in a press preview the other day and found it generally impressive. Of course, any sort of motion to which a camera is subjected makes it appear to the viewer, later on, that the camera was traveling at some harrowing speed. But the Russians have outdone us in that detail. The announcer says, more or less, "Now let's go over to Red Square," and immediately you're in the back seat of an open car hurtling through crowded streets at somewhere just under the speed of sound.

Dismiss all thought of hearing the narrators speaking like extras from the road company of "The Volga Boatman." In line with the new Soviet chic, if that's the word, the voices that come from the nine separate stereo speakers around the Mayfair Theater are as about as American as Kansas City.

It's a big country to see in 90 minutes, but nothing is impossible in the reign of Tsar Nikita I.

There are interesting, sometimes breathtaking pictures, which will give millions their first concept of the enormous size of the Russian squares, the brilliance of their ceremonial fountains, the hardiness of the native stock, the endlessness of the Soviet wide-open spaces.

We (the audience) are represented by a lady tourist whose voice emerges from a spaker high on the leftside wall of the theater. The authority, probably an Intourist man, jet-propelled, answers her sometimes inane queries from the right wall. Then everything bellows and roars from front and center, to illustrate his point.

For example, there's a sop for the westerner who subscribes to the notion that there is a God. Our lady tourist, confronted by a stunning view of Leningrad, with Gargoyles and bits of steeple in the foreground, asks, sweetly, "Is that picture taken from an airplane."

"No," answers the right wall, "from St. Isaac's Cathedral!"

☆ ☆ ☆

We are not permitted to forget the Glorious October, the Russian revolution — which occurred in November, according to the present calendar. There is a remarkable old and now gigiantic newsreel of Lenin making a speech, and scenes from old Russian films having to do with the people losing their chains and storming the citadels of the rich.

But we do see remarkable shots of Magnitogorsk, a pre-smog-clearance Pittsburgh, and of the donets coal miners (all happy, on cue,) and Baku oil drills 60 miles out in the water, reached by rickety wooden causeway.

Lonely Boy Looks In Vain For A Feminine Type Girl

NEW YORK — "I am sixteen years old and at that age when a boy should have a steady girl," he writes, "but I can't seem to find any feminine young ladies around.

"Perhaps those misses in the motion pictures — that have long hair, and a minimum of makeup; that wear dresses and use feminine articles, such as ribbons—maybe they never existed. However, I prefer to think they did, and that many still do. But where?"

You can see him as you read it. A Boston boy from Hemenway Street. Kind of lonely there, and mature for his age. Ready to go steady because he wants somebody to love and write poetry to, for one thing. But for another, he can't find a friend worthy of confiding in . . .

☆ ☆ ☆

"This is not to say that boys are any better," the letter goes on. "On the contrary, they are a great deal worse. Some day take a stroll down any crowded street and observe the dress and affectations to today's boy.

"Plain cotton shirts are no longer good enough. All must be shiny material with silver and gold threads. They would die without string ties, tight dungarees, flaming red jackets, white bucks and a comb."

You can see him grimacing as he writes. "Where the girls have decided that their hair must be short and stuck with bobby-pins—boys have unanimously acclaimed that 'long look.'

"I am beginning to think that the combs are stuck to their hands, which in turn are glued to their heads."

The bitter Boston boy now stops to control his annoyance. "I don't want you to think I'm a fanatic," he writes, "or what I'm imagining things and being too hyper-critical.

"I just wonder why in my age group I can't find a feminine girl or a masculine man."

☆ ☆ ☆

He then, carefully and coolly lists the complaints against the girls he knows. They have replaced flirting with boldness. They talk too much. Smoke too much. Wear cheap perfumes. Groom themselves, only from the chin up, in public.

But he hasn't given up his faith that somewhere, even today, there may be a better world of women.

"P.S. If you happen to know of any feminine lady of fifteen, tell her she is still the greatest idol, as far as one man is concerned."

Schools Locked, Grounds Untended In Virginia's Prince Edward County

Farmville, Va. (UPI) — Prince Edward County officially ended public education Wednesday in the South's sternest stand against federal court integration orders.

The county's 21 public schools stood locked and abandoned indefinitely. There were no janitors, no maintenance crews, no one even to check the padlocks or mow the spacious lawns and playgrounds.

School buses, used extensively in this rural "southside" Virginia county, were abandoned in their garages with no one to look after them. The contracts of the approximately 185 employes of the county school system, including about 140 teachers plus janitors and school bus drivers, expired.

Few Still Serving

The only remaining county employes connected with the public school system were School Supt. T. J. McIlwaine, his assistant and members of the School Board, who vainly protested the Board of Supervisors' decision to close the schools.

McIlwaine and the board members were elected to 4-terms ending in 1961. They no longer have any duties here. McIlwaine will continue as school superintendent in neighboring Cumberland County.

The approximately 1,300 white students and most of their teachers will switch to private segregated classes in makeshift facilities next September, financed by private donations.

Negroes Omitted

No plans have been made to educate the more than 1,600 Negro children.

The supervisors voted last June 2 to close the schools by adopting a new budget which included no money for education in defiance of an integration order handed down by the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The board cut county taxes more than 50% and refused to appropriate money even to maintain the school buildings, equipment and buses, valued at about $2 million.

The new budget became effective Wednesday.

Narcotics, Union Link Charged

. . . At Labor Probe

Washington (AP) — A federal agent Wednesday linked officials of a New York teamsters union local with narcotics peddling.

Ivan Wurms, a government narcotics investigator, told the Senate Rackets Committee he bought $2,400 worth of cocaine from Bernard Blaustein, a business agent of Local 805.

This happened in February, 1956, Wurms said, while he was building a case against Blaustein. The union business agent later was given a 3-year jail term on narcotics charges and now is out on a conditional release, Wurms said.

The federal agent testified that Blaustein used the local's office on Broadway as a base for narcotics operations.

Wurms also swore he knows of frequent contacts between "purveyors of narcotics" and Abe Gordon and Milton Holt, top officials of the same New York local.

Gordon is administrator of Local 805's welfare fund. There was testimony that the welfare fund bought land in upstate New York from a cousin of Gordon, paying $85,000 for a tract assessed at $25,000.

As for Holt, committee investigator George Kopecki testified about "rather devious" deals dating back to October, 1957, in which he said Holt borrowed $243,000 to finance investments. Kopecki said the loans — some of them without interest or security—came from executives of New York firms with which the union bargains, or with the help of these executives.

Gov. Ralph Brooks and his administrative assistant, Robert Conrad, will appear on an Omaha television station Thursday at 6:30 p.m. to discuss how Brooks' legislative program fared in the 1959 Legislature.

Beck Misses Court Date; Warrant Out

New York (AP) — A federal judged issued a warrant Wednesday for the arrest of Dave Beck after the 65-year-old former teamster boss failed to appear in court to plead to a federal indictment.

Beck's lawyer said "this must be all a mistake."

Charles Burdell, the lawyer, said in Seattle he understood Beck's plea was to have been entered Thursday, not Wednesday.

Beck was indicted June 17 with two trucking firm executives, who allegedly paid $200,000 to Beck 5 years ago while he headed the Teamsters Union. The indictment did not make clear why the payment allegedly was made.

Beck originally had been scheduled to plead to the charge June 24, but his Seattle lawyer arranged for a postponement. Wednesday morning the case was called in the court of Judge Gregory F. Noonan.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Donald Shaw suggested that Beck and his lawyer be given another chance to appear later in the day.

"Oh, no," Judge Noonan answered. "I think a warrant should be issued right now. He is not going to play footsie with us."

Beck currently is free on bail while appealing convictions on two prior charges. One was for stealing $1,900 in union funds, the other for evading $240,000 in income taxes.

Nebraska Down To 'Only' 4,300 Districts

Now there are only 4,300. That's the word from the State Department of Education's annual report, issued Wednesday, which said that 300 Nebraska school districts were dissolved in 1958, leaving only about 4,300 districts.

The report listed 20 plans submitted by county committees, 149 petition plans for redistricting and 3 county-wide comprehensive reorganization plans reviewed by the State Committee for Reorganization in 1958.

Lunches Provided

During the 1957-58 school year, the report said, school lunches were provided to 63,098 children in 442 schools. Another 592 schools participated in the special milk program.

The number of schools in the lunch program increased by more than 6% and the number of children served by the program increased by more than 10%.

A total of 3,464 handicapped students in public schools received some type of special education service.

Nineteen school districts received $191,550 in federal funds to help provide education to 641 Indian children. Thurston County schools received $160,804 of this and Knox County schools received $18,483.

The Vocational Education Division worked with Nebraska schools to develop vocational training programs enrolling 12,970 day school students and 20,824 adults. A total of 303 programs were operated in 229 communities.

Practical nursing schools were operated in Omaha, Kearney and Alliance graduating 72 students, the report said.

During the year, 115 high schools provided homemaking training for 6,999 students and 7,316 adults.

During the 1957-58 school year, the report said, 7,269 teaching certificates and permits were issued.

Meeting Planned To Study Frontier Schedule Changes

State Aeronautics Director Jack Obbink plans to call a meeting within the next 10 days of all parties interested in the flight schedule changes made Wednesday by Frontier Airlines.

Obbink said he is arranging the conference, which will be held at the Statehouse, at the request of Frontier Airlines President L. B. Maytag Jr. who has assured state officials the airline is interested in maintaining its position in Nebraska.

Frontier had stated, when the schedule changes were announced, that the primary reason for the revisions was due to the small number of persons using the service.

In an effort to strengthen the state's air traffic promotion, Obbink Wednesday announced the appointment of Al Edwards, formerly with United Air Lines, to the Aeronautics Department staff.

A native of Lyman, Neb., Edwards will be chief of air transportation education and will work with cities and combine plans for an overall stimulation program for aviation in general in the state, Obbink said.

Edwards, who will receive an annual salary of $6,000, spent 2 years with United at Scottsbluff and Des Moines, Ia.

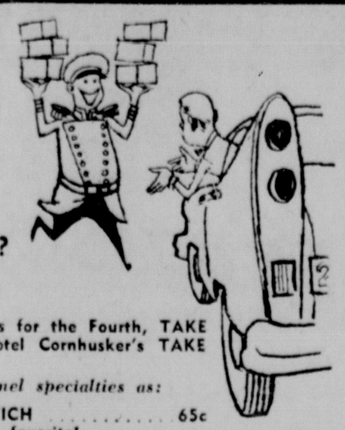

Obbink said the State Aeronautics Commission has designated $10,000 (including Edwards' salary) for the air promotion program.

Joe Lorentzen, agent for aviation services in the department, will serve as coordinator of the stimulation program in addition to his other duties, Obbink said.

City-County Planners May Use Federal Aid

The City Council and County Board have passed resolutions aimed at making the City-County Planning Commission eligible for federal funds to be used in preparing a comprehensive plan for the entire county.

Both local governmental agencies approved designation of the commission as a "regional planning agency." Such a designation is required to make the commission eligible for federal funds for the project.

LAFB Atlas Base Contracts Set Early In '60

Associated Press Special Service

Washington—The Air Force plans to let contracts for Atlas missile bases in Wyoming, Nebraska and Kansas between September and February.

The timetable was given to a closed session of a House Appropriations subcommittee by Col. William Leonhard of the Air Force Ballistic Missile Division.

Leonard's testimony, made public Wednesday, came in support of a request for a total of 140 million dollars to build the three missile squadrons.

"We expect to let contracts in September as soon as we get our 1960 appropriations for the squadron at Warren," Col. Leonhard said, "and . . . in January and February, respectively, for the Lincoln and Schilling installations."

The references were to Warren Air Force Base, Wyo., Lincoln AFB, Neb., and Schilling AFB, Kan.

Col. Leonhard said design is underway for all three of the installations.

the intention was to fund such projects on a priority basis but he gave no breakdown.

The overall estimates show that about 38 miles of roads would be needed at Warren with a total cost of $1,900,000; 22½ miles at Lincoln to cost $1,125,000 and 75 miles at Schilling with a cost of $3,750,000.

Col. Jackson said the ease of access to these launching areas is an important factor in site selection but such things as geological formations, availability of government-owned land and target coverage must be considered.

In response to a question by Chairman Harry R. Sheppard (D-Calif), he said these funds "substantially completes the Atlas program."

Missile Assembly Likely

But he estimated that about $1 million each would be sought in the 1961 fiscal year program for such things as missile assembly at the Lincoln and Schilling bases.

The Air Force also sought $4 million in the military construction bill for the year which began Wednesday to get a program underway that will improve local roads between adequate highways and on-base roads at missile sites.

Col. E. R. Jackson of the Air Force Civil Engineering Office told the subcommittee

Heinrich Luebke Named W. German President

Berlin — Heinrich Luebke, the handpicked candidate of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Wednesday was elected president of West Germany.

The election by the 1,038-member Electoral College went off without incident despite the threats and protests of the Communists. The Reds had warned that holding the convention in West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain, was a dangerous affront to East Germany.

The voting demonstrated that the 83-year-old chancellor, despite recent grumbling over his whip-cracking tactics, was still very much in command of his ruling Christian Democrat Party.

The 64-year-old Luebke, a short wiry man little known except for his record as agriculture minister for the past 6 years, was elevated to the ceremonial presidential job on the second ballot. He ran up 526 votes, 6 more than needed.

Carlo Schmid, the scholarly 62-year-old Socialist candidate, was second with 386. Max Becker of the Free Democrats received 99.

The first ballot followed party lines, with Luebke polling 517 votes, one vote more than there were Christian Democrats in the electoral body. Schmid got 385 and Becker 104.

Luebke, who was jailed by the Nazis for 20 months, takes the oath for a 5-year term on Sept. 5, succeeding Theodor Heuss who is completing a second term. Heuss.

A-Powered Carrier Is Approved

. . . By Senate Unit

Washington (AP) — A Senate Appropriations subcommittee Wednesday about-faced on a House action and approved funds for the Navy to build its second big nuclear-powered aircraft carrier. It would cost 380 million dollars.

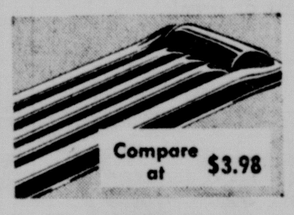

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM), manager of the Pentagon's annual money bill in the Senate, told reporters the subcommittee made the decision in a closed-door session.

The House had knocked out all carrier funds. Chavez said the subcommittee decided to approve a nuclear-powered one even though top Navy officials had said they would be happy to get a carrier with conventional power.

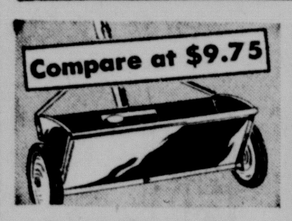

The Navy's first atomic-powered carrier, the 80,000-ton 4-reactor Enterprise, is now under construction at Newport News, Va. It is scheduled for delivery in 1961 at a cost of 393 million dollars.

Military-Affected Schools Bill To Go Without R.G.'s Name

Gov. Ralph Brooks informed The Star Wednesday night that he is allowing LB738, the bill which would make it permissive rather than mandatory for Nebraska school districts to educate children of military personnel residing on federal property, to become law without his signature.

He had reported earlier Wednesday that he had signed LB705, the voting machine bill, and LB462, providing uniform fees for clerks of district courts in each civil and criminal case.

Ends Action

This winds up action on all bills passed by the 1959 Legislature. Ten were pending gubernatorial action when the Legislature adjourned.

Brooks vetoed one of these, LB656, signed the other 8 measures, and allowed the one to become law without his signature.

That brings the total to 470 approved by the governor, 11 measures were vetoed, two vetoes were overridden, and he allowed 3 to become law without his signature.

This means a total of 475 bills were enacted.

Also Permissive

LB738, introduced by the Government Committee in the closing days of the Legislature, also makes it permissive rather than mandatory for the state to provide financial assistance to school districts which educate children of armed services members on active duty in Nebraska who reside on federal property.

The Legislature appropriated no funds for making such payments in the 1959-61 budget bill.

The voting machine bill, as finally approved by the Legislature, requires a majority vote in counties of more than 10,000 population before voting machiees may be used. Douglas County, however, may approve their use on approval by the county board.

Convicts Get Holiday

Belgrade (AP) — Yugoslavia's Parliament has adopted a law granting each convict a two-week holiday every year.

Postal Receipts Reported Higher

Postal receipts increased 41% over last year for the period from May 30-June 26, Postmaster O. E. Jerner said Wednesday.

Total receipts for the month were $306,700, compared with $216,308 for the same period last year. The post office issued 9,659 money orders and opened 3 new postal savings accounts during the period.

Postal receipts for the year are $3,748,684, a 19% increase over last year's figure.

Not Generous, Just Careless

Washington (UPI)—Uncle Sam signed 3,000 blank checks Wednesday.

Some 3,000 retired government workers got their monthly pension checks all filled out save for the dollar amounts.

Embarrassed Treasury officials said the retired folk would receive corrected checks soon.

They also said the persons involved in the foul-up would get letters of reprimand.

Physicist Gets $340,000 After 18-Year Fight Over Invention

Washington (AP)—A University of California physicist won an 18-year fight for payment for an invention that helped U.S. planes and ships hide from enemy radar in two wars and is still in use.

The Defense Department announced the settlement with Vienna-born Dr. Otto Halpern for $340,000. Under terms of the agreement, the scientist relinquished all rights to his development of a material and method for absorbing electromagnetic radiation.

Halpern, now residing in Pacific Palisades, Calif., got the idea for his invention in 1941 when assistant professor of physics at New York University.

He informed the U.S. Navy of his theories, got them accepted and then joined a team working at the radiation laboratory at Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he developed his invention—largely on his own time. The Navy used Halpern's concept throughout the remainder of World War II. Since then the U.S. Air Force has adopted his idea to increase the ability of its planes to avoid detection by unfriendly radar. It was used during the Korean War.

During World War II the Navy, though using the Halpern devices, paid him nothing. When Halpern sought to patent his invention at the end of the war the government held that granting a patent would make his secret processes public.

In 1952 Halpern attempted to get a cash settlement from the Navy. He was offered $50,000, but rejected it as too little and turned to the courts.

Belmont Polio Shots Scheduled For Thursday

Belmont residents will have an opportunity to receive Salk vaccine polio immunizations Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m. at a public clinic at the Belmont Community Center.

Chester Dill, director of the Belmont Center, said that charge for the shots will be $1.25. Residents may also receive the 4th, or booster shot.

The clinic is being sponsored by the Belmont PTA, Dill said, with the cooperation of other organizations and citizens.

Kellogg Awards $81,890 For Hospital Accounting Center

A $81,890 grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Mich., has been awarded to establish a central accounting service for hospitals.

The project, an original Nebraska Hospital Assn. proposal, is to be set up in Nebraska with Lincoln a leading location contender.

General purpose of the project is to provide better financial and statistical information to hospital administrators and trustees to aid them in making management decisions.

Nation's First

This Hospital Administrative Services project, which is described as the first in the nation, will offer aid to all hospitals in Nebraska, Colorado and South Dakota.

Accordng to Stuart Mount, executive secretary of the Nebraska Hospital Assn., the grant is the first from an approximate $300,000 earmarked by the Kellogg Foundation for the 4-year project.

Mount said the plan is to make the service, which is expected to begin by mid-August with headquarters in Lincoln or Omaha, self-supporting by the end of a 48 month study period.

A pilot study along the same lines is being made by 6 smaller Nebraska hospitals. Mount said these studies show that such a project is of value.

8 Deputies Will Ride Herd On Atom Plant Site

The hiring of 8 men as special deputy sheriffs to work as guards during construction of the atomic power plant near Hallam has been approved by the Lancaster County Board.

Approved by the Board as special deputies were: John C. Furrow, 380 So. 45th; Vernon H. Markwad, 4617 Gladstone; Gerald F. Clark, 1002 No. 29th; Joseph F. Kubalek, Hallam; Doyle F. Dahlin, 715 So. 1st; Lynn E. Mathews, Hallam; Earl E. Zieman, Hickman; and Richard V. Shepoka, Lincoln.

Northern Seeks 9% Rate Increase

Washington (AP)—Northern Natural Gas Co., Omaha, Neb., applied to the power commission for a $10,676,000 or 9.4% annual wholesale natural gas rate increase.

The proposed increase would afect 35 utility customers in Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, and Kansas.

Foreign Aid Vote Stalled Overnight

Washington (AP) — Backers of a 5-year, $5-billion program of low interest foreign loans for needy countries suffered an initial setback in the Senate Wednesday night — but succeeded in putting off a showdown vote until Thursday.

President Eisenhower has objected to the size of the program and, more particularly, to the method proposed by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of financing it through direct borrowing from the Treasury. The administration has proposed that the program be financed through direct appropriations by Congress.

The agreement to put off a final vote on the issue until morning was reached after Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) said he was prepared to talk all night to prevent action Wednesday.

Seeks Full House

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader from Texas, urged all senators to be on hand for the vote, scheduled tentatively for noon. He said he thought the question was the most important to arise since he became a senator.

Democratic forces backing the Treasury financing plan plunged the Senate into a long debate to try to build up strength for a subsequent vote.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) said if opponents succeed in killing this type of financing for the Development Loan Fund, opponents of farm price supports can be expected to use the same device to kill funds for the Commodity Credit Corp.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) said the issue raised questions as to the legality of a dozen or more other programs financed by Treasury borrowings to the tune of more than $31 billion.

Administration forces were asking a smaller substitute for the billion dollar a year proposal backed by Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) and the Foreign Relations Committee.

Spelts Has Answer For R.G.'s Blast

Grand Island, Neb. — "The people who know him best rejected him decisively at the polls."

So said Republican State Chairman Richard E. Spelts Jr., Wednesday night in reply to criticism leveled at him by Gov. Ralph Brooks.

"I fully realize that it takes two to continue a running discussion, and I do not care to seek out the governor at the level on which he seems to be at his vocal best," Spelts said.

"This discussion, which he states is personal on my part, can be concluded by a reference to the results of last November's elections.

"The people who know him best rejected him decisively at the polls: In Frontier County (Eustis) where he was born, in Custer County (Sargent) where he was raised, in Cedar County (Hartington) and Red Willow County (McCook) where he worked.

"All sincere Nebraskans, myself included, hope most sincerely that our state will progress under the Brooks administration, but it is well known that progress comes only as a result of hard work and not from conversational tirades which tend to lower the dignity of the position."

Mack-Whiteside Conspiracy Trial Finally Goes To Jury

Washington (AP) — The case of Richard A. Mack and Thurman A. Whiteside, accused of conspiring to rig a Miami TV Channel 10 contest, was placed in the hands of the jury Wednesday.

After listening to testimony and arguments since April 7, the jury began its deliberations at 3 p.m. The jurors deliberated for 5¼ hours without reaching a verdict, and went to bed at 10 p.m. They will resume their duties at 9:30 a.m.

Dwells On Law

U.S. District Judge Burnita S. Matthews spent more than an hour explaining the law of conspiracy, but gave no summary of the evidence. She told the jurors that on the conspiracy count they would have to acquit or convict both defendants and not deal with them separately.

In addition to this joint conspiracy charge, Whiteside is accused of seeking to influence Mack's vote corruptly in the Channel 10 case.

Mack is accused of receiving money and other things of value from Whiteside to influence his vote in favor of Public Service Television, Inc., a subsidiary of National Airlines.

Illegal Ties

In his closing argument to the jury today, the chief government prosecutor, J. Frank Cunningham, said the government had proven through the evidence it offered that there was a corrupt agreement between Mack and Whiteside.

Mack, as a member of the Federal Communications Commission, voted to award the Channel 10 permit to Public Service.

Cash Benefits

The indictment alleges that Whiteside gave financial favors to Mack to influence his vote, but the defense denied any wrongdoing.

The defense contention was that financial favors from Whiteside to Mack resulted from their long-time friendship and had no connection with the Channel 10 case. The defense offered evidence to the effect that Whiteside aided Mack financially years before the Channel 10 case arose.

The trial, longest here in recent years, spread over 56 trial days with about 7,000 pages of testimony.

Nikita Says Bureaucrats Cause Lags

Moscow (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said in a speech released Wednesday the only thing holding back technical progress in Russia is bureaucratic red tape.

"In our country some bureaucrats are used to the old rut and cling to it with might and main," Khrushchev told a plenary session of the Central Committee.

The premier delivered the address Monday. It was released Wednesday by the official news agency Tass.

The Russian leader said the country's ambitious 7-year plan, aimed at surpassing the West's standard of living, has "achieved good results" so far.

Brighter Side

Tass said Khrushchev stressed that "All branches of Soviet national economy were on the upswing" and that several economic areas were ahead of their schedule in the 7-year plan.

The soviet leader also called for increased agricultural output with emphasis on better management and a step-up in the nation's grain output.

Khrushchev noted that "Capitalists are not always interested in further technical progress," Tass said. Therefore, there are no obstacles in front of the Soviet Union except bureaucratic red tape, he said.

Prod Laggards

Khrushchev said the party was considering switching some experienced agriculturists to "lagging" collective and state farms.

Stressing the need for speedier replacement of obsolete machinery, Khrushchev said:

"We have launched a rocket into space, how is it that we are unable to eliminate quickly our shortcomings in the engineering industry?"

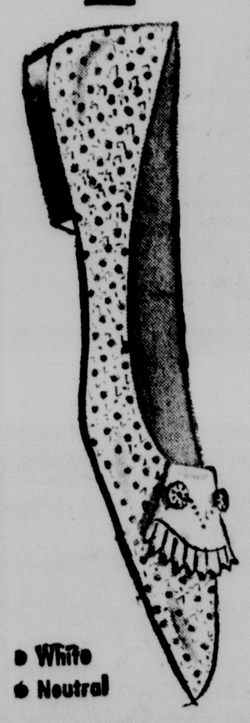

Basement Blast Hurts 2 Youths

Blue Springs, Neb. — A match thrown into blasting powder found while cleaning the basement resulted in burns to Kenneth, 12, and James Casebeer, 10, sons of Mrs. Helena Casebeer of Blue Springs, and in sending both boys to a Beatrice hospital.

Mrs. Casebeer said the boys found the blasting powder in a box in the basement while cleaning, and threw a match into the open box.

Robert Humiston of Grand Island, Region 4, was elected secretary-treasurer, and Harold Orr of Ainsworth, Region 2, was named vice-president.

The organization was formed to promote a comprehensive weed control program for the state, to promote uniformity in service charges and chemical sales, and to promote educational programs on weed control.

Membership is open to weed district workers and supervisors, and University of Nebraska and Weed and Seed Division officials.

Going to move soon? Be sure to notify the Circulation Department, giving both your old and new address.

VANDALS CUT MORE BRAKE TUBES HERE

Two more cases of vandals cutting the hydraulic brake tubes of parked cars were reported to police Wednesday.

Cars belonging to Jack Grainger of 2741 Jackson Drive and Howard Tempero of 2924 Jackson Drive were parked in front of their homes when the linings were cut during the night, police said.

About 5 other cases had previously been reported.

Residents Shiver At Fraser And Big Piney

Denver (AP) — Early morning temperatures plunged to below freezing in parts of Colorado and Wyoming on the first day of July.

The lowest reading was 23 degrees at Fraser, high in the Colorado Rockies, 75 miles west of here. The runnerup with 25 was Big Piney, Wyo.

United Sets New High In Air Passenger Loadings

United Air Lines passenger loadings at Lincoln hit a new record high of 2,425 persons during June.

John Geisel, Lincoln manager, reported the new high compared with 1,871 in May and 1,645 for a year ago.

The previous record high was 1,978 persons last September, Geisel said. September is usually the peak month, he added.

6 Per Day

UAL has 6 flights a day, including two through flights and 4 "turn-arounds" at Lincoln.

Geisel also reported all cargo categories were up 10 to 25% over a year ago. Overall loading was 79,132 pounds during June compared with 75,983 last month and 60,067 a year ago.

Frontier Air Lines loadings were not immediately available, but informed sources estimated the total passenger loadings at the Lincoln terminal would show a new record.

Frontier is serving routes similar to those served by Braniff Air Lines a year ago.

West Coast Wedding

MRS. THOMAS OVERTON HALEY

Arrangements of white gladioli and white Majestic daisies appointed the altar and chancel of St. James Church in DelMar, Calif., for the wedding of Miss Catherine Mae Hull, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Dean Hull of Tulsa, Okla., and niece of Mr. and Mrs. Van A. Goodrich of DelMar, to Lt. (JG) Thomas Overton Haley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Haley, Jr., of Lincoln, which was an event of Wednesday afternoon, July 1. The Rev. James M. Gilfillan solemnized the 4 o'clock ceremony.

The attendants, Miss Maureen Flynn of Beverly Hills, Calif., the maid of honor; and bridesmaids, Mrs. Stephen P. Hill of San Diego, and Miss Lucinda Ann Goodrich, appeared in alike frocks of white chiffon, patterned with violet nosegays, over white taffeta. Velvet ribbon, in the violet shade, accented the Empire bodices, and was repeated to form tiny hair bandeaux which held matching tulle veils. Each carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Parker Geesen of Manhattan Beach, Calif., served as best man, and the ushers included Richard Chadwick, and Stephen P. Hill, both of San Diego.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of white lace designed in the princess mode. Natural scallops of lace framed the portrait neckline and edged the brief sleeves of the sculptured bodice and the bouffant skirt flared to waltz length. A bandeau of lace leaves held to the head her brief veil, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations centered with white orchids. Her only ornament was a sunburst pendant of diamonds and pearls, a family heirloom which had belonged to her maternal grandmother.

Lt. Haley and his bride will come to Lincoln for a short visit with the bridegroom's parents before flying to Hawaii where Lt. Haley will be stationed.

The bride attended Holy Name College, Oakland, Calif., and Lt. Haley was graduated from the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Talk Of The Town

—Took a quick look at the town this morning and liked what we saw—To start the day off in fine fashion we found some guests — or rather, a guest. Robert (Tommy) Hawke is spending a few days in Lincoln while Mrs. Hawke and their young daughter, Janet, are visiting Mrs. Hawke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. House in Grand Island.

It seems that Mr. Hoyt Hawke is the sole recipient of his son's visit since Mrs. Hawke is in Santa Barbara where she is spending a few weeks as the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Larson.

* * *

—The lights were on at the J. E. M. Thomson home—and we discovered that Dr. and Mrs. Thomson were back in town after a trip east. Dr. and Mrs. Thomson went first to Lake Placid, N.Y.—and a meeting of the American Orthopedic Association. En route home Dr. and Mrs. Thomson spent some time in Detroit and around and about.

* * *

—Hear that Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Faulkner and their family are due home later this week from Madeline Island where they have been vacationing.

* * *

—And mention of the Faulkners remind us that Mr. Faulkner's mother, Mrs. Lee Metcalf of Kansas City, will be arriving on Monday for a brief visit before accompanying her mother, Mrs. Mark Woods, to the family summer home at Madeline Island.

* * *

—Opened our brides book a moment ago and found that one of the early August brides, Miss Lucy Webster, will be honored on Sunday, July 12, when Mrs. William Rotton is hostess at a morning brunch at the Lincoln Country Club.

The wedding of Miss Webster and Wayne Robertson of Norfolk, will take place on Friday, Aug. 7.

* * *

—Out-of-town guests and parties are an unbeatable combination, festivity wise—and in Mr. and Mrs. Leo Black and their children, Nancy and Perry, of Denver, we have just such a combination.

Mr. and Mrs. Black and their family, as you may remember, are former Lincoln residents. Mr. Black was associated with the Nebraska department of education, and now is assistant state commisioner of education in Colorado.

Anyway, Mr. and Mrs. Black and their children are spending several weeks in Lincoln, while Mr. Black conducts a three-week workshop on secondary education at the University of Nebraska.

* * *

—This evening, for example, Miss Beatrice White will be a hostess at her home when she entertains in courtesy to Mrs. Black. Invited for the informal evening is a group of former YWCA associates of Mrs. Black.

* * *

—Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Black on Saturday evening will be Dean and Mrs. F. E. Henzlik who will be a dinner host and hostess at their home.

And on next Wednesday morning, July 8, Mrs. Black will be complimented by Mrs. J. P. Colbert and Mrs. Frederick Coleman who will be coffee hostesses at the home of Mrs. Colbert. The guest list will include alumnae of Delta Delta Delta sorority of which Mrs. Black is a member.

* * *

—Another guest courtesy was on the Wednesday calendar—The luncheon, a no hostess affair arranged by Mrs. Walton Ferris and Mrs. Lloyd Teal, was at the University Club and honored Mrs. Ralph Bedell who, with Mr. Bedell, has come from Washington, D.C., for a few days stay in Lincoln.

* * *

—Certainly Fourth of July celebrations can not be by-passed, and one of the fun bring-your-own-food-and-fireworks affairs is planned for Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dudgeon.

On hand, with the younger generation in tow, for the event will be Mr. and Mrs. George Holyoke, Mr. and Mrs. George Day, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Burket Graf, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fenton and Dr. and Mrs. Norman Cromwell.

* * *

—Just had news of more guests who have come for a few weeks stay—They are Mrs. Myron Garfinkle and her two children, Jack and JoAnn, of Kansas City, Mo., who arrived on Monday for a visit with Mrs. Garfinkle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Stam.

The Star In Suburbia

FIENE HEIGHTS

The Fourth of July will be extra special for Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Huebner, as it is Mr. Huebner's birthday. Mrs. Huebner will entertain at an evening supper honoring her husband. The guests will include some of Mr. Huebner's friends from the University of Nebraska College of Law.

Former residents of Fiene Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Vogt of Kansas City, Kan., were in town for a short visit. Mr. and Mrs. Vogt were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Gloe. During her stay in Lincoln Mrs. Vogt was honored at a bridge party for which Mrs. Vern Walker was hostess.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

Residents of Kessler Heights were sorry to say good-bye to Mr. and Mrs. Jeff H. Withrow, who left to reside in Wichita, Kan. Mr. and Mrs. Withrow lived at 2316 Burnham.

Returning home from camp last week end were Mary Linn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Avery J. Linn; and Linda Kay Zimmerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Zimmerman. The girls spent a week at Twin Lakes, Ia.

HOLLINGSWORTH

Visiting at the lakes in Hackensack, Minn., is Miss Judy Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Cox. Miss Cox is the guest of Miss Dee Stuart at the summer home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Stuart. After spending the week end swimming and water skiing, Judy and Dee will return to Lincoln on Monday.

Traveling to McCook for the week end will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Campbell and three of their children, Patricia, Barbara, and David. They will spend the holiday with Mrs. Campbell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Con Trupp. The Campbells' other son, Tom, has been in McCook visiting for a week and will return to Lincoln with his parents on Sunday.

We hear that Mrs. Millard Brumfield is spending some time in Topeka, Kan., visiting her mother. The trip isn't all pleasure however, as her mother is recuperating from a recent operation.

Week end guests at the home of Capt. and Mrs. J. R. Hansen will be Capt. and Mrs. Felix Ocko and their two children, Johnny and JoEllen. The Ockos are coming from New York and then will be headed for Oakland, Calif.

The welcome mat is out this morning for the new residents in Hollingsworth Heights, Dr. and Mrs. L. S. Pucelik and their son, Robert. The Puceliks moved from their home in Plattsmouth and are now living at 2746 Anderson Dr.

MEADOW LANE

Back from a camping and fishing trip are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dedering and their children, Susan and Michael. The Dedering family spent five days at Chadron State Park.

New residents in Meadow Lane are Mr. and Mrs. W. Richard Baker who moved into their home at 1035 Lancaster Lane on June 18.

The Baker couple formerly made their home in Fullerton. Mr. Baker is attending the University of Nebraska College of Pharmacy.

Barbara Turner, Bride

MRS. JAMES BURR OSBOURN

With only the members of the families attending the ceremony, the marriage of Miss Barbara Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Turner of Lincoln, to James Burr Osbourn of Denver, son of Cleon S. Osbourn of New York City, and the late Mrs. Osbourn, took place on Wednesday afternoon at the Montview Boulevard Presbyterian Church in Denver, Colo. The Rev. Carl Smith solemnized the 4:30 o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. Cecil Walker of Lincoln was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. Her frock, designed in the tunic mode, was in shades of olive green and black, and her brief veil, in the olive green tone, was held to the head with a bandeau of leaves. Her flowers were fashioned into a nosegay.

Cecil Vogel served Mr. Osbourn as best man.

For her wedding the bride chose a costume suit of imported cotton eyelet in the beige tone. The fitted jacket, worn over a sheath frock, was designed with a wide collar and bracelet-length sleeves. Her white brow-veil was held in place with minute white feathered birds, and she carried a bouquet of fluffed white carnations and white orchids.

Following a garden reception Mr. Osbourn and his bride left for a honeymoon trip through Colorado, after which they will reside at 2728 West 24th Ave., Denver.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority, and Mr. Osbourn was graduated from Yale University.

Dear Abby . . .

Somebody's A Crackpot!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband will soon be 57 and I am 56. We've been married 34 years and he has been very lucky in business. He says if I won't give him a divorce he will go to Mexico and desert me. He also says that when a woman is 35 a man should kick her out. I am deaf on top of it. He has offered me $1,000 a month but what good will money do me if I am alone? His lawyer laughed at me. How can I keep my husband, Abby? Maybe I am a crackpot but I love him.

FAITHFUL

DEAR FAITHFUL: Make your husband a deal. Tell him you will have a complete physical (and mental) examination if he will. A doctor might be able to help both of you. And ask the lawyer who laughed at you to go along. He doesn't sound too well either.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am a Polish man who likes to go out with American girls. Many times when I am at their homes and there are American men present, the American men offer to collect and wash the dishes. The men in the Polish home from which I come never did this. As a result I do not know if I am supposed to offer to help when I eat in an American home. Is this an accepted American custom? Sincerely, CASIMIR

DEAR CASIMIR: In America it is proper for a guest to offer assistance to the hostess if she has no hired help.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My child is a head-bumper. He gets up at night and starts rocking on his knees and bumping his head until he tires himself out. Then he falls asleep. He has been doing this since he's been ten months old and he is almost four and still does it. The thumping sounds like our house is falling apart. Also we are afraid he will hurt himself. Is there any cure for this or should we let him outgrow it?

MOTHER OF BUMPER

DEAR MOTHER: If he's bumping his head on the wall — move the bed away from the wall. If he's bumping his head on his bed, pad the bed so he can't hurt himself. Ask your pediatrician for other suggestions, but don't wait for him to outgrow it.

☆ ☆ ☆

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

We Hear That

The Dress Doctor

by EDITH HEAD (with Jane Kesner Ardmore)

(Editor's note: This is the tenth in a series of installments condensed from Hollywood dress designer Edith Head's best-selling book, "The Dress Doctor.")

Early in 1952, I hurried to New York to show sketches for the picture Roman Holiday. The film was to be shot in Rome, the young star was appearing on Broadway in a play called Gigi. She had never had a large movie role; I'd seen the test she made in Europe, but the test had been shot in pajamas and I had no idea, really, how Audrey Hepburn looked.

She came to see me wearing a little dark suit with white collar and cuffs, very simple, very elegant, with a sprig of lily-of-the-valley in her button hole, fresh white gloves, her whole person clean and shining — a little girl with the poise of the Duchess of Windsor.

Her figure and flair told me, at once, here was a girl who'd been born to make designers happy. If she were not an actress she'd be a model or a designer. As it is, she's all three: a girl way ahead of high fashion, who deliberately looks different from other women, who has dramatized her own slenderness into her chief asset.

Audrey has the perfect model figure: very slim and tall (5'6¾). She accentuates her slimness; and she has the cultivated taste so dear to a dress doctor.

To the sketches for Roman Holiday, she added a few of her own preferences: simpler necklines, wider belts. I returned to the coast, had the clothes made, and we tested them in New York.

When I saw the test, I knew that this was not only a fine actress (I'd already caught Gigi) but one of the greatest models.

Audrey won an Oscar for Roman Holiday; so did I, and I looked forward to her next picture, Sabrina.

Planning the clothes this time, I went up to San Francisco where she was playing on stage. I took with me pages and pages of "little Audreys"—the Hepburn face and figure in miniature, on which Audrey could doodle dresses.

She loves to design, and we worked like a team on the Sabrina clothes, in which the "chauffeur's daughter" goes to Europe and comes back tres chic.

The director broke my heart by suggesting that, while the "chauffeur's daughter" was in Paris, she actually buy a Paris suit. I had to console myself with the dress, whose boat neckline was tied on each shoulder — widely known and copied as "the Sabrina neckline."

Audrey and I went shopping in San Francisco; she wanted me as confrere and audience. Shopping is her idea of fun, and no wonder—no matter what she tries on (size eight or nine), she looks simply delicious.

This girl is one person off stage and on. The charm that made her a star is the same charm she uses when buying a loaf of bread: it's her own personality. And coupled with this charm and magnetism is the mind of a diplomat. If she could run for president, she'd make it. She knows art, music, clothes; she speaks four languages fluently, is shrewd, intelligent, and has an international background; but best of all, she has a positive approach.

Luckily, she's not about to run for president, she's too busy with her two roles, as actress and as Mrs. Mel Ferrer.

Incidentally, here is a girl who consults her husband on any personal clothes. Where many women dress for men before marriage, and for women after marriage, Audrey says it wouldn't be fun to wear clothes unless Mel likes them; and she takes home all sketches for him to see. Of course he likes the clean, uncluttered look that is part of Audrey's personality; he likes, too, the exaggerated use she makes of fashion. High fashion is part of her life, part of her consciousness; she imitates no one.

(On Saturday, Miss Head tells of Liz Taylor.)

President Not Happy Over Some U.S. Art Chosen For Moscow Exhibit

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower, who likes to paint but says he is not an artist, took a dim view Wednesday of some of the art selected for the American National Exhibition opening in Moscow July 25.

But he told a news conference he was not going to set himself up as a censor of the exhibit nor have it reviewed before it is shown to make sure, as a questioner put it, that it truly represents Americans to the Russians.

But he did say he might have something to say about how juries which select art for international exhibits are named in the future.

Twenty-one cultural advisers to the state department and U.S. Information Agency picked a 4-man jury of art experts to select the works for the Moscow exhibit. Seventy paintings and sculptures of 67 artists were chosen.

Eisenhower's remarks were made as the House Activities began hearings into charges by Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) that 34 of the 67 artists have records of affiliation with Communist fronts and causes.

The Walter charges about Communist fronts were mentioned at Eisenhower's news conference by a reporter who also mentioned that one of the pictures depicts a U.S. general in an unflattering way.

Eisenhower did not touch on the communist allegations, but said the controversial painting mentioned by the reporter "looks like a lampoon more than art, as far as I am concerned."

This was a reference to a 1946 painting "Welcome Home" by Jack Levine of New York showing a general with a mouth full of food at a dinner.

One member of the jury has defended this painting as showing the Russians "we can make fun of our generals the way they would like to be able to do but can't."

Control Board Names Leeman As Chairman

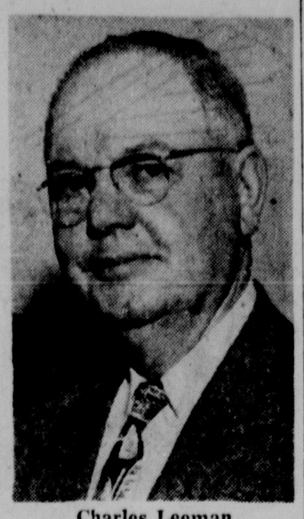

Charles Leeman, senior member of the Board of Control, was named chairman Wednesday.

Leeman, a Democrat, is the former mayor of Omaha. His six-year term will expire in 1961.

Harold Peterson, the lone Republican on the three-member board, and second in line in senority, was named vice-chairman. His term will expire in 1963. He is from Lincoln.

Mrs. Ethel Kirwin, Scottsbluff, assumed her duties Wednesday as the newest member of the board. She is an appointee of Governor Brooks and will serve for six years. She replaces former chairman Mrs. Catherine Martin, Kearney.

The Board of Control operates 17 institutions in the state including the penal facilities and mental hospitals.

Pulp In Pipeline

New York (AP) — Pulpwood to be made into newsprint may some day travel directly from the forests to the paper mills through pipelines, if an experiment by the Pulp and Paper Research Institute of Canada proves feasible. The Newsprint Information Committee says tests are underway in which pulpwood, reduced to one-inch chips, is powered through a pipeline 500 feet long and eight inches in diameter.

One letter simply stands for another, in this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Olmedo To Meet Aussie For Wimbledon Crown

Wimbledon, England (AP) — Top-seeded Alex Olmedo marched ahead with machine-like efficiency, but his U. S. Davis Cup teammate, Barry MacKay, bowed out fighting in a marathon 5-setter Wednesday in the semifinals of the Wimbledon tennis championships.

Olmedo, losing only one service and master all the way, erased Australia's No. 2 ace Roy Emerson in exactly 60 minutes, 6-4, 6-0 and 6-4.

The storied center court, however, proved Heartbreak House for MacKay, the lumbering slugger from Dayton, O., who gave it everything he had but still went down before Rod (The Rocket) Laver, a 20-year-old Australian lefthander.

He shot ahead 3-1 in the decisive 5th set, but confidence and control suddenly deserted him and Laver reeled off 5 games in a row. The capacity crowd suffered for the 6-foot-4 giant from Ohio with the outsized fighting heart.

"No excuses," MacKay puffed later. "Laver was too good, that's all. I seemed to lose my confidence."

Double-faults — an old affliction for the power-hitting-Yank—came up to haunt MacKay again. He served 25 double-faults in all, a half-dozen in the vital 5th set when every misplaced shot put him a step nearer elimination.

Yanks Climb To 3rd Spot In AL Chase

Baltimore (AP)—Young Ralph Terry, winless for almost two months, gained his first victory for the New York Yankees here Wednesday night with a 4-hit, 4-0 decision over Baltimore that moved the Yankees into 3rd place in the American League race.

Home runs by Norm Siebern and Gil McDougald were the big blows for the Yankees, who have a .001 edge over 4th-place Detroit.

UNKNOWNS PACE OPEN

Muirfield, Scotland (AP) — Two unknown British players, Fred Bullock and Arnold Stickley, shot 68s here Wednesday for the lead in the British Open golf championship and then sat back and enjoyed themselves as high winds and rain sent later scores rocketing.

Bullock, a 40-year-old pro playing in only his second tournament this season, and 32-year-old Stickley got in their rounds before the 6,806-yard, par 36-36—72 Muirfield layout became a rough, tough test.

Early in the afternoon winds up to 10 miles an hour and short, sharp rainstroms added 3 or 4 more strokes to the course.

Antonio Cerda, an Argentine pro playing in his 11th British Open, also was out early in the easier conditions and finished one stroke behind the leaders with a brilliant 33-36—69.

KEEPING SCORE

With Al Beebe

Star Sports Staff Writer

Roaring Start For NSL

The Nebraska State League has gotten off to a rousing start. For the 4th year, the NSL is providing Nebraska cities with exciting, if not the best, professional baseball, via a rookie league.

McCook manager Bill Steinecke called his team's 6-2 opening game win over defending champion North Platte "the best played opening game in my 4 years here." The contest drew 731 at McCook.

Estimated attendance at Grand Island, where Kearney rallied for an 8-7 victory, was 750. They saw 22 walks issued in the 3½-hour game. But they stayed to the end, according to reports.

Not so at Hastings, says Dee Swanson in the Holdrege Citizen, where some 500 were there at the opening, but only about 50 after Holdrege got through winning an 11-4 tilt.

But Robb Madgett in the Hastings Tribune says a cold drizzle started in the 3rd inning, and "it was rather foolish to make the boys play."

Row In Cornhusker Loop

There was plenty of activity in the Cornhusker League too, particularly Genoa's recent 3-1 win over York.

A questionable call on a foul ball caused the argument, with York manager Tank Campbell finally ejected from the game. Campbell protested that the umpire had touched one of his players.

Torczon

After the game, Campbell also protested on the basis that Gene Torczon, who pitched for Genoa, had played for Columbus the week before and was an illegal player. He quoted a league rule stating a player must be released from one team for 5 days before being eligible to play with another in the league.

Last I saw on the affair, it hadn't been determined when Torczon had officially been released by Columbus. But, I understand official rosters weren't necessary until this week, so the 5-day rule may not apply.

The whole thing is to be settled at a meeting this week.

Sticks With Patterson

Paul Ernst of the Columbus Daily Telegram, concerning Ingemar Johansson's heavyweight title victory over Floyd Patterson:

"My prediction on the heavyweight title bout was rather sour. If there's a return bout I'm sticking with Patterson."

But Bill Madden of the Scottsbluff Star-Herald has other ideas, although his prediction for a Patterson knockout victory also went haywire. Of Patterson, Bill says:

"One won't find much wise money riding on him next trip. Johansson took care of that, possibly for all time. There is no doubt as to who won. Patterson . . . had met a better man."

The return bout will be fun, anyway, and a veritable U.S. mint.

Someone's Tipping The Road

Somebody must have tipped the road in this motorcycle race at Assen, Holland. Number One proved prophetic for Italy's Carlo Ubbiali, who won the Dutch Grand Prix event with an average speed of 76.71 mph. His compatriot, Brunio Spaggiari — No. 5 — took second place, and Britain's Mike Hailwood, 4, came in 3rd.

Cards Blow Safe Lead; Lose By 6-5

Chicago (AP) — The Chicago Cubs tallied 5 runs in the last two innings here Wednesday to score a 6-5 come-from-behind victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

After scoring 4 runs in the 8th to fashion a 5-5 standoff, the Cubs saddled relief pitcher Lindy McDaniel with his 9th loss by scoring the winning run with one out in the 9th.

Ernie Banks opened with a single, took second on Dale Long's infield out and scored the winning run on Bobby Thomson's ground single to center.

St. Louis starter Ernie Broglio set the stage for the Cardinals' 8th setback in their last 24 games when he walked Long and Thomson to open the 8th.

Phillies' Conley Masters Pirates

Philadelphia (AP) — Philadelphia's Gene Conley pitched a neat 5-hitter and his mates eked out a lone run for a 1-0 victory over Pittsburgh's Pirates here Wednesday night.

The big righthander collected 8 strikeouts and gave up only one base on balls in notching his 6th victory against 4 defeats. He was never in trouble as the Pirates only once had more than one man on base, that being in the 5th inning.

Ron Kline was the loser, evening his record at 6-6.

Lincoln Star Special

Burlington, Ia.—Two Burlington hurlers held Lincoln to a combined total of 10 hits and 2 runs as the Bees increased their winning string to 6 games with a doubleheader sweep over the Chiefs here Wednesday night, 9-1 and 3-1.

Don Prince set the Chiefs down on 3 hits in the 7-inning opener and was backed up by a 10-hit attack while Jim Brewer, the Three-I League's strikeout king, fanned 11 and gave up just 7 singles in the nightcap.

The two clubs wind up the current series tonight, with Lincoln manager Ira Hutchinson calling on big Al Brice (7-2) in an effort to halt a 5-game losing streak for the Chiefs. Charlie Herzberger (3-3) will chuck for the Bees.

A 5-run explosion in the second inning against Ron Teunis took care of the first game for Burlington after the Chiefs had tied the game 1-1 in the top of the same inning.

A walk to Deacon Jones, an infield out and Mike Hershberger's single got the Lincoln tally but 3 hits, including 2-run singles by Prince and Horace Ingram, and 3 walks gave Burlington its 5 runs and Don Davis and Ken Lindley added 3 more tallies later with home runs.

Lincoln's Ron Bloodworth, who dropped his 5th straight after chucking a perfect game 3 weeks ago, dueled on even terms with Brewer in the second game until 4 straight singles and a squeeze bunt gave Burlington its victory in the bottom of the 8th.

Jones walked, stole second and scored on Pug Williamson's single to give the Chiefs a 1-0 lead in the top of the 4th but the Bees tied it with Dave Wondra's sacrifice fly in the bottom of the inning and finished the scoring until the 8th.

Singles by Ken Fisher, Sam Drake, Lindley and Ingram brought in the lead run for the Bees and Davis squeezed home Drake with the insurance tally.

Four Clubs Request Loop Meeting Today

. . . LINCOLN IS VOTING FLAT 'NO'

By Don Bryant

The Three-I League waters, which were supposed to remain placid this year with the addition of 4 former Western League clubs, started thrashing Wednesday as agitation for a split season splashed into the open..

A special meeting to discuss the controversial season splitting will be held Thursday morning at 10 a.m., at the Roosevelt Hotel in Cedar Rapids, Ia., Pres. Hal Totten told The Star by phone Wednesday afternoon.

"There is no panic," Totten said. "But 4 clubs have requested the meeting to discuss splitting the season."

According to Totten, Burlington and Fox Cities of the old Three-I and Sioux City—the Western League's old thorn—definitely favor the split. Cedar Rapids is going along with this trio in asking for today's meeting because it asked consideration for a split several weeks ago.

But since then the Braves have started to win and are now only 2½ games out of the first division.

CR Not Committed

"I think Cedar Rapids would rather attract its fans because of a climb in a regular season," Totten said. "But because it requested a split earlier, it is going along with the other 3 clubs in requesting the meeting. However, Cedar Rapids is not committed on a vote.

Lincoln, Topeka, Des Moines and Green Bay—all first-division teams, with the first 3 being former WL members —are dead set against the split, Totten said.

"A. Q. Schimmel (Lincoln president) won't be able to attend the meeting," Totten said. "But I have received a telegram from him stating to the effect that Lincoln 'thinks the idea is preposterous and would not favor a split if the Chiefs were in last place.'"

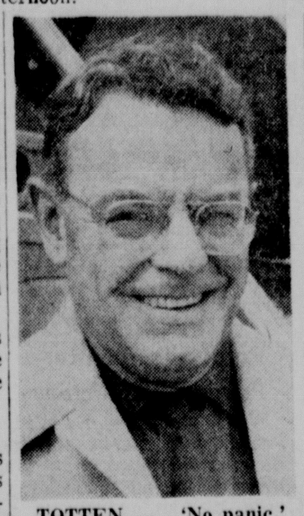

With the league split 4-4, Totten would have the deciding vote on a split season.

Asked how he would vote, Totten told The Star:

"No Set Opinion"

"I have no set opinion and I will have to hear the discussion. If they (the 4 clubs seeking the split) can show me it will help, I'll certainly listen. In my heart, I doubt if a split will accomplish much.

"If I were them, I'd want to fight up from the bottom and not start over. I think they'll decide the matter among themselves, though."

TOTTEN . . . 'No panic.'

Totten stressed that nothing was settled one way or the other and that no threats or signs of panic among the split-season advocates were being presented.

No Fold Threats

"No one has said they'll fold if we don't split the season," he said. "But agitation has started because the second-division clubs feel they've strengthened themselves and could do better in the second half of the split season."

Prior to Wednesday night games, only 13 games separated last-place Fox Cities and first-place Green Bay, and Fox Cities was only 8 games out of the first division.

If the split-seekers have spiked up as they contend, it wouldn't take much to make the league race a close one, Totten opined.

"Of course, I'd like to see the last 3 clubs closer to the leader, but if they're strengthening — and I think they are — they certainly can tighten up the race without a split season."

On the other hand, Totten said in an obvious effort to ease the shock in case the split season should become a reality, "I don't think any club would be hurt very much by a plit season. Lincoln hasn't strengthened much and Topeka is about the same. If they'd get a boy or two they might move up."

Chiefs Are 'Definitely Opposed'

"General Manager Roger Bottorff of the Lincoln Chiefs said Wednesday night that the Lincoln club was "definitely opposed" to splitting the Three-I League season.

"We received a telegram from Hal Totten (league president) inviting us to the meeting. I met with A. Q. Schimmel (Lincoln president) and we wired our vote against the split."

Schimmel was out of the city Wednesday and unavailable for comment.

"We decided not to attend the meeting because we know how we want to vote and there's no sense arguing about it," Bottorff said. "We haven't got enough money to run over there to argue about splitting the season. It was agreed before the season that we would not split the season and now this has come up.

"It looks like it will be 4-4, anyway, and Totten will have to decide. So it won't do us any good to be represented. We're against the split and have voted against it by telegram."

Sox Game Out Of First Place

Cleveland (AP)—The Chicago White Sox held off a Cleveland Indians' 9th-inning rally here Wednesday night for a 6-5 victory that cut the Indians' American League lead to one game.

Earl Torgeson hit a home run, his 7th of the season, and Luis Aparicio a two-run triple to lead the second-place White Sox.

Woodie Held hit a homer for the Indians in the bottom of the 9th inning, his 15th of the year, scoring pinch hitter Russ Nixon ahead of him.

Chicago Manager Al Lopez then sent in righthander Turk Lown to relieve Gerry Staley with none out, and Lown put down the Indian uprising. Lown set down 3 Indian sluggers in a row—Vic Power, Tito Francona, who had hit a home run in the 6th inning, and Rocky Colavito.

Starter Barry Latman (2-2) got credit for the victory, giving the White Sox a split of their two-game series here.

Optimists Get Revenge At Hastings

Lincoln Star Special

Hastings — The Lincoln Optimists got revenge for an earlier beating with a 10-7 lashing of Hastings here Wednesday night.

A 3-run first, featured by one of Dennie Puelz' two triples and a 2-run double and a 5-run 7th which came as the result of 6 Hastings errors, 3 hits, 2 walks and a wild pitch did the damage as the Optimists ran their record to 8-2.

3-I Meets To Discuss Split Today

Appearance of Sioux City on the split-season side of the fence comes as no surprise to Western League followers. In June of 1956, Adam Pratt—the Soos' guiding hand who will attend today's meeting—demanded a split season and inicated Sioux City would fold if the WL directors didn't okay the split.

The directors yielded and voted the split, but it didn't change much. Sioux City was last in the first half, last in the second half and last in the overall standings. And the last 3 clubs of the first half wound up in the same spots overall.

That was the year Larry Shepard's Lincoln Chiefs won the first half but coasted the second half since they had the playoffs cinched. The Chiefs beat Amarillo for the pennant in the playoffs.

The Three-I League has split its season twice in the last 4 years, but Totten said this was prompted only becaue of emergencies.

"One year we lost Terre Haute and in 1958 we changed cities," he said. "Winona replaced Rochester and it just wouldn't consider taking over a club that was so far behind."

Totten said only about 5 of the directors would attend today's meeting, but that all had responded to a teiegraphic poll Wednesday, with the 4-4 split.

Harvard Crew Wins 1st Race

Henley-On-Thames, England (AP)—Harvard's unbeaten lightweight crew made a fine start in defense of the Thames challenge cup Wednesday as the Royal Henley regatta opened in drizzling rain.

The Union Boat Club 8 from Boston and two United States 4s also won their opening heats on the narrow Thames River. American oarsmen suffered only one setback—a heartbreaking loss by the schoolboy 8 from Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass.

The Harvard lightweights rowed with 4 of the same men who won the Thames challenge cup—No. 2 trophy for 8-oared crews in this unofficial world championship of rowing.

MERCURY WORLD'S NO. 1 OUTBOARD

PERFORMANCE

RUGGED? You bet, but it means the most dependable outboard for you!

45 hp Mark 58A, 4-in-line

THE WORLD RECORD LINE FOR '59! Trim Twins: 6 hp, 10 hp, 15 hp, 22 hp. Fabulous Fours: 35 hp, 40 hp, 45 hp. Powerful Sixes: 60 hp, 70 hp.
©1959 Kiekhaefer Corporation, Fond du Lac, Wis.

Only Mercury has the rugged dependability and nimble performance to take jumps like this — and only Mercury can repeat this performance! Take a good look. Those are 45 hp, 4-in-line, Mark 58A's on that jumping cat! Would any competitive outboard dare try it?

Mercury jumps boats to prove engine ruggedness — to be sure the engines will thrive under treatment far rougher than they will meet in normal boating use — to insure that extra margin of safety for Mercury owners. Boat jumping is a thrill you may prefer to skip. But you can enjoy one of boating's biggest thrills. Just slide into the driver's seat of a Mercury rig. Touch the starter. Nudge the throttle. You move — but now! — in a quick, quiet surge of smooth power. That's Mercury performance!

Without stress or strain you breeze through sprints or long cruises. You negotiate snaky river turns and harbor traffic with the sureness only Mercury powerplants can give you. Mercury's confident way makes you confident too.

Want to pull a record crowd of skiers? Plane a big cruiser? Push a roomy houseboat? Set a new speed record? With the right engine, propeller and boat combination you can do them all with Mercury!

See your Mercury dealer and drive the boss of the world's outboards. You can prove to yourself that Mercury outperforms all others — does it smoothly, efficiently, economically — without ever "raising its voice". You can trade for as little as 10% down — with up to 24 months to pay.

Reliefer Saves Tiger Victory

. . . Athletics Fall 5-4

Detroit (AP)—Paul Foytack worked on a one-hitter for better than 7 innings here Wednesday but ran into gopher ball trouble in the late going and needed 9th-inning help from Ray Narleski before the Detroit Tigers subdued the Kansas City Athletics 5-4 in a game twice interrupted by rain.

Foytack yielded a lead-off triple to Jerry Lumpe, then pitched hitless ball until Hal Smith singled with one away in the 8th. Kent Hadley and Bob Cerv smashed 9th-inning home runs before Narleski came on and retired the final batter.

The Tigers provided Foytack with a 5-1 cushion going into the 9th. But Lumpe led off with a single to left, and Hadley cracked his 7th home run into the upper right field seats. Foytack got the second out before Cerv poked a wrong-field homer into the same section.

Narleski, who doubles as a starter and reliever for the Tigers, gave up a single to Frank House before getting Smith on a called 3rd strike.

Bids Sought For U.S. Offices

By Walt Switzer

The General Services Administration, Kansas City, Mo. office has announced that it is seeking office space bids for several federal agencies which are now housed in the Lincoln Veterans Administration building.

Thomas G. Jay, regional GSA commissioner, said the space is being sought since the cancellation of the lease for the VA regional office here also cancelled the leases for all the federal agencies housed in the 12th and O building.

The VA office is being moved to a new location at 17th and N.

First Bids

First of the bid invitations announced by Jay is for 4,600 sq. ft. of usable space for the Social Security offices. He said the bid opening for space for the Social Security offices would be July 22.

Possession would be Jan. 1, 1960, date of the VA lease expiration, for the 5-year non-cancellable lease.

Jay indicated that the present owners of the VA building, the VA Building Corp., are expected to bid on the new lease for the Social Security offices and the other offices presently housed in the building although they previously announced they would have the building appraised in order to put it on the market.

The VA Building Corp. will submit bids for any federal space invitations according to a corporation spokesman.

Space Needed

Jay said the bid advertising for Social Security office space calls for a private office, conference and training room, storage, mail and duplicating rooms.

Other federal agencies in the VA building for which office space bids must be submitted include the Federal Aviation Administration requiring about 1,400 sq. ft.; Selective Service, about 2,500 to 3,000 sq. ft.; Air Reserves, about 2,000 sq. ft. and two recruiting offices about 400 to 500 sq. ft.

Ads Planned

Bids for these office spaces are expected to be advertised within two or 3 weeks Jay said.

The space for all the offices must be within the following boundaries: from 10th and Q, east to 17th, south to J, west to 11th, north to M, west to 10th and north to Q.

The GSA Commissioner said that reconstruction of the building at 17th and N for the VA offices is expected to start within two weeks.

The 170,000-student system is the largest segregated system in the nation.

Mrs. Lucille F. Nefsky of Lincoln has purchased the building which houses the Walker-Adams clothing store at 1131 O for $132,500, according to a deed filed with the Register of Deeds.

The Register of Deeds' office had erroneously reported Tuesday that the building involved was the one housing Robinson's Apparel Inc. at 1125 O.

Specimen Test Refusal Brings First Affidavit

. . . Under New Drunken Driving Law

Norfolk, Neb. (AP)—State Trooper Lloyd Howell, Norfolk, has filed an affidavit with the State Department of Roads stating John Burgmer, Norfolk, refused to have a chemical analysis of his blood or urine under the new state law after being arrested on a drunken driving charge, County Attorney Vincent Kirby announced.

Under the law, Burgmer will be given a hearing before the Department of Roads at Lincoln to determine whether the state trooper had reason to ask the defendant to take the chemical analysis, Kirby stated.

If the Department of Roads finds the state trooper had reason to ask for the chemical analysis, then Burgmer's driving privileges will be automatically suspended for one year, the county attorney said. In event the Department finds the state trooper had no reason to ask for the analysis, Burgmer will still have to stand trial on the drunken driving charge, County Attorney Kirby added.

This is believed to be the first affidavit of its kind to be filed under the new law, Kirby said.

Historical Tour Of Mennonite Area Set

Lincoln Star Special

Jansen, Neb.—Jefferson County's Historical Society will sponsor a tour Saturday, July 4, of the early Mennonite settlement in the Jansen vicinity.

The Mennonites immigrated to the U.S. in the early 1870s. They brought seeds of various fruits and vegatables from their homeland. Most important of these was the mulberry tree which they hoped to be a source of income through the manufacture of silk.

The only living member of this group is Peter J. Thiesen of Jansen who will be one of the main speakers for the first part of the program to be held in the American Legion hall in Jansen at 2:30 p.m.

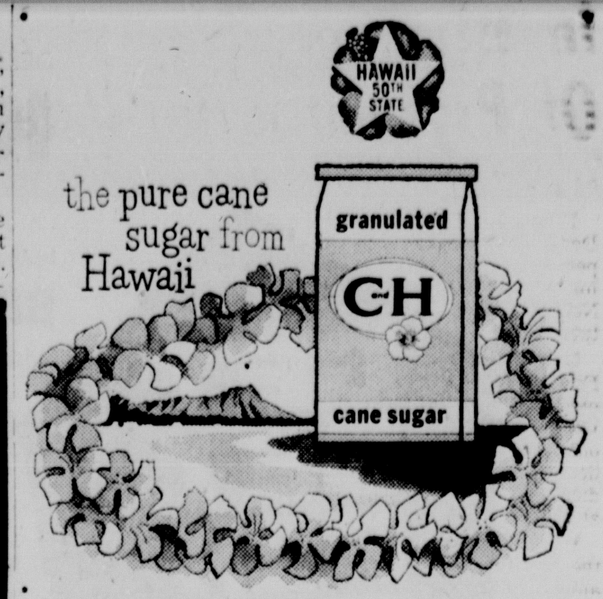

Other participating pioneers are Peter E. Friesen of Jansen and Mrs. Elizabeth Wiebe of Fairbury.

The main point of interest of the tour will be at the A. B. Friesen home where one of the original fireplaces served as a center of the family group for baking, cooking and heating purposes will be seen.

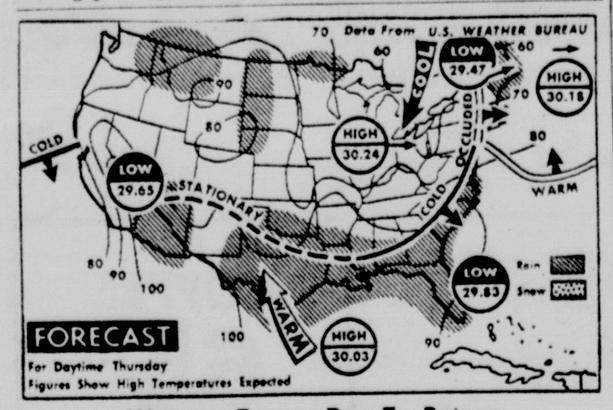

Harvey Clark of Jansen, vice-president of the Society, is in charge of the program and he is being assisted by the Rev. Paul Goossen, minister of the E. M. B. Mennonite church.

A car caravan will leave the east side of the square at Fairbury at 2 p.m. for Jansen.

Wheat Fields Still Too Wet

Combining remained at a standstill Wednesday throughout Nebraska's southeastern, south central and southwestern ripe wheat areas while fields began drying out from heavy rains.

At Falls City, a few loads of grain were brought to the Bartlett and Co. elevator Wednesday, although the wheat was cut Saturday or Sunday, according to Jacob Arnold, elevator manager.

Fields there were still too wet to combine Wednesday, Arnold reported.

Wheat yields in the Falls City vicinity are running all the way from 4½ to 40 bushels per acre, averaging near 20 bushels, compared to last year's average of 35 bushels.

Arnold estimated wheat output is down about 50% in Richardson County this year due to Hessian fly, rust and winter kill.

Combines may be able to enter Fairbury fields by Thursday unless more rain comes, according to a spokesman at the Farmers Union Elevator there. Wheat cut there Sunday was testing 60 to 62 pounds with 11.5% to 14% moisture.

Investigation Requested Of Psychiatric Institute

. . . Two Dodge County Incidents Led To Action

Fremont, Neb. (AP)—The Dodge County Board of Supervisors Wednesday asked for an investigation of the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute in Omaha.

Deputy County Attorney Forrest Johnson said two incidents, involving Dodge County residents including one which resulted in the death of Albert Miller, 68, indicated a lack of supervision at the institute.

Miller had been confined to the institute for a physical ailment and died as a result of a beating administered by a 20-year-old mental patient who was later committed to the Nebraska State Hospital in Lincoln.

The motion that the board have the county attorney present the cases to the governor, the board of control and to State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff was unanimously approved.

County Welfare Agent Mrs. Clair Muir attended the session. Neither Mrs. Muir nor the board related details of the second incident involved. But Mrs. Muir said the second incident took place within a week of Miller's death.

Dr. Cecil Wittson of the Psychiatric Institute was not immediately available for comment.

Engineers Seek Answer To Water Loss By Evaporation

Agricultural engineers at the University of Nebraska are searching for an answer to the ancient problem of water loss by evaporation in the Great Plains area.

Nebraska News

The short supply of soil moisture is the principal limiting factor in the growth of crops and range forages in the Great Plains and has an influence on the stability of the entire economy.

About three-fourths of the precipitation in this large area returns directly to the atmosphere by evaporation from soil and plant surfaces.

Directing the study are Paul Schleusener and Donald Signor.

"From the study, an understanding will be developed of the fundamental processes involved in evaporation and of factors which modify the processes," Schleusener said. "It should then be possible to develop practical methods of controlling evaporation, leading to annual savings of water amounting to millions of acre feet."

DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

How is your corporate image? I have been doing a lot of worrying about my corporate image lately.

A corporate image is the latest thing for corporations — it is the mental picture the public has of your corporation, as simple as that. Corporations spend millions of dollars improving this image or picture.

The best corporate image, I gather, is a sort of kindly father. Guarding your stock (and splitting it like kindling). At the same time giving the stockholders fewer dividends because the money is all going into public service.

(The best example I can think of offhand is Union Oil. Union Oil is plowing money back into a Sparkle Corps, a bunch of antiseptic and beautiful cupcakes who inspect Union Oil restrooms.)

☆ ☆ ☆

This gives me a corporate image of an oil company. The directors are sitting around the mahogany, cracking jokes and gasoline.

The stock is gold-edged. Dividends are pouring out to the worthy.

"Paper towel on the floor at Station 5, 23rd and Arbuckle!"

The president throws the intercom.

"Get that call? Fine. Fine." He hangs up. "Two Sparkle Corps units now en route. Not really a two-alarm sparkler. But what the heck, nothing is too good for the friends of Union Oil."

The directors cry in unison: "Thank Heaven."

That is the corporate image I get of Union Oil.

For a long time, corporations had a very bad corporate image. The picture of a corporation was like a cartoon on the editorial page when we are against somebody.

This picture was something like this: A fat, selfish man in a claw hammer coat and a silk hat labeled "Greed." He was hitting a small inoffensive man over the head with a bag marked "$". The little man is labeled "Public."

This was before corporations knew they had an image.

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, this is all changed. Now we corporations watch our images like a lady watches her weight.

I say "we" because I have a corporation. Me and my dog, Inc. who is the world's only incorporated dog.

I got this corporation and, while it did not make me rich, it gave me a wealth of good feeling. My family was pleased that I had a corporation. Because it is well known that corporations are practically like Santa Claus. (That is what corporate images do to people, even children.)

"We can't afford it," I would cry at each household expenditure.

"Take it out of the corporation," they said. "The corporation can pay for it."

Well, by and by, the corporation got down to $9.35. A sort of holding operation with the bank.

When we got the new dog, everybody said: "The corporation can buy his dog food."

I thereupon gave this dog the major part of the corporation. And I must say he has handled it as well as I did.

☆ ☆ ☆

Our corporate image is 4 months old. He is mostly Australian shepherd. Though his papa was something else. We suspect a bird dog. Because this dog is more interested in birds than in sheep.

Anyway, he is a kindly dog. He would not hit "Public" over the head with a bag of $. Not even with a bag of old bones. He is black and white—sort of splashy. One ear cocks but the other falls down a little.

He does not herd sheep. But he herds lizards. He is terribly fond of lizards and herds them under logs. Then he sits and looks as proud of himself as though we just split the stock three ways.

He is an excellent corporate image. I doubt that the oil companies can beat it.

No Magic

Ponca City, Okla. (AP)—Amateur magician Ed Bennett was called upon to perform while attending a Rotary Club meeting. He warned fellow Rotarians he wasn't prepared, but went ahead anyway. He borrowed a necktie, cut it into several pieces, said some magic words—all to no avail. He handed back the tie in pieces to its owner.

State Treasurer Richard Larsen said Wednesday there is $47,658 in federal funds to be distributed to eligible counties.

The largest fund, the U.S. flood control fund of $35,656 will go to Harlan and Knox Counties. The fund is 75 per cent of the receipts from lands leased for flood control and navigation.

The forest reserve fund of $11,723 goes to Blaine, Cherry and Thomas Counties and is derived from receipts from national forests.

The smallest fund, the public grazing fund of $198 will be distributed to Cherry, Holt, Morrill, Rock, Brown, Blaine, McPherson, Scotts Bluff, Sioux, Hooker and Dawes Counties.

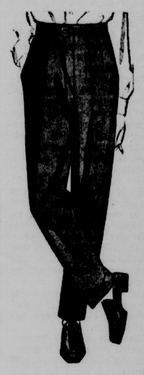

All funds go to the counties for schools and roads.

Ex-Con Nabbed Following Night-Long Hunt For Miami Rapist

Miami (UPI) — A former boxer known as the "Spanish Bandit" was flushed from under a tool shed in the fashionable Miami shores residential section Wednesday by an angry posse hunting a hooded rapist.

The 40-man posse was organized last midnight when a prowler was seen. The Metropolitcan Miami area was in a state of alarm by disclosure Tuesday that a stocky man wearing a hood has raped at least 3 housewives here in the past 7 weeks, subduing their husbands in early morning attacks. The rape cases were kept secret by authorities who hoped to trap the man.

The suspect arrested Wednesday, Dempsey Jones, 38, was shot in the neck and captured as he tried to flee. He denied being the rapist.

Middleweight

Jones, police said, is a former middleweight boxer who earned the nickname "Spanish Bandit" and a prison term for using a phony Spanish accent while robbing people.

He was paroled in April after serving 10 years of a 20-year term for 4 holdups. He was held on a charge of parole violation.

Jones denied any knowledge of the rape attacks. "I was walking down the street and the policemen started shooting at me," he said. The suspect suffered only a slight wound.

Concealed Weapons

The rapist, who wore a close-fitting white hood with slits for eyeholes, always struck in the early morning hours, threatening his victims with both a knife and gun he said he had concealed in his clothing.

None of the victims ever saw a weapon, however.

In each instance, the rapist carefully bound the victim's husband and blindfolded him before attacking his wife.

All 3 victims, whose names were withheld, said the rapist politely thanked them afterward.

Cops Answer Call

Police swarmed over the Miami shores area shortly after midnight when a resident reported a prowler.

The resident said he was standing near a window when a voice from outside warned him to open the door or be killed. The rapist had used a similar approach in one attack. The man dropped to the floor, crawled to a telephone and called police.

Outside the window, police found a woman's white blouse and a piece of bamboo. They said the blouse might have been the white hood the rape victims had described.

The victims also reported their attacker carried something that looked like a skin-diver's speargun.

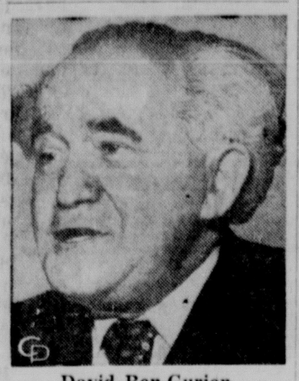

Frightened Homeowner

Shortly after daybreak, another homeowner heard a voice from under his toolshed say: "Don't move or I'll kill you. Where are all those policemen?"

The frightened resident ran for his house and called police as the prowler sprinted across the yard.

Patrolman A. L. Gwynn spotted Jones and fired, his bullet grazing the man's neck. He was taken to the police station where he was identified and questioned.

Police said Jones had been working at an appliance store since his parole in April.

David Ben-Gurion
...will form new cabinet

Ben-Gurion Winner In A Showdown

Jerusalem (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion won a showdown test in parliament Wednesday on the government's decision to sell arms to West Germany, the hottest domestic issue in Israel's short existence.

Despite bitter Israeli hatred of the Germans for their mass extermination of the Jews, Parliament voted 57-45 against a motion to cancel the contract to sell 250,000 Israeli-made grenade launchers to West Germany. Six deputies abstained.

The next step for the 72-year-old prime minister, who has guided Israel for most of its 11 years, is to purge his coalition cabinet of ministers from the two parties opposing the arms deal. To do this, Ben-Gurion will resign and form a new cabinet without them.

Any new government would serve only until this fall. Parliamentary elections are due in November.

The time of Ben-Gurion's expected resignation is uncertain. An official source said it might not come for a few days.

Busy Thief

Mexico City (AP)—Police report they have a woman in custody who averaged 3 robberies per week in two years, hiring out as a new housemaid and making off with jewels and electric appliances at the first opportunity. She is the mother of five children, they said.

No New Polio Cases Here; Count Still 8

This figure includes 5 confirmed cases with one death, and 3 tentatively-diagnosed cases.

Dean Holloway, Zebbie Busick, Mrs. Ruth Carmel and Larry Burton, the 4 confirmed cases, are all reported in satisfactory condition at Lincoln hospitals.

Faubus Law Appeal Eyed

Little Rock, Ark. (UPI)—Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Wednesday he plans to appeal a ruling by a 3-judge federal court which said his 1958 school closing law is unconstitutional.

Faubus said his attorneys would file the appeal with the U.S. Supreme Court "in due course of time."

Liberace's Brother Sued For Divorce

Riverside, Calif. (AP)—George Liberace's wife sued him for divorce Wednesday. She alleged he comes home late and frightens her.

George, violinist and conductor, is the brother of the smiling pianist. They used to appear together, but don't anymore.

VIGOROUS CLIMB MADE BY STOCKS

Two well known market yardsticks reached historic highs.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 7.28 to a record 650.88, topping the previous closing high of 643.79 reached May 29.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose .50 to 58.97, exceeding the record 58.68, also reached May 29.

For the previous two days the Dow industrials have been pushing against the May 29 ceiling, topping it in the course of a day's trading but always falling below it by the market close.

The market rise was due primarily to technical reasons, brokers said, although the general run of business and economic news remained good. A lot of stock has been for sale at the high levels represented by the May 29 tops, Wall Streeters said, and it took time to absorb these offerings before prices could respond to increasing demands.

As the market began to show unmistakable signs of a strong upturn many traders and investors who have been on the sidelines came back into the market.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.70 to $329.80 with the industrials up $3.10, the rails up 70 cents and the utilities up 30 cents.

The AP 60 stock average remained a bit below its historic top of $330.30 reached May 29 due to the fact that its list of stocks is not identical with those in the other market barometers.

The advance in The AP stock average matched last Wednesday's based on the rise in The AP average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange rose an estimated $2,200,000,000.

Volume was fairly active 3,150,000 shares compared with 3,200,000 Tuesday.

Twelve of the 15 most active stocks advanced, two declined and one was unchanged.

Corporate bonds were mixed with convertibles responding to the stock market rise by posting gains.

Bond sales totaled $6,340,000 par value.

Wheat Finishes With Small Gains

Chicago (AP)—The grain futures market turned weak shortly before the close of the Board of Trade Wednesday but wheat withstood the pressure and finished with small gains.

Hardest hit were rye and new crop soybeans, all down a cent a bushel or more. Corn sagged major fractions and oats mostly small fractions. The broadest losses in the distant corn and soybean contracts left them within two or three cents of their lows for the season.

Wheat closed unchanged to ¾ cent a bushel higher on the 1959 crop deliveries, July $1.86¼-⅝, and the 1960 crop contracts ¼-¾ lower; corn ½-⅝ lower, July $1.25⅛-¼; oats ⅛ higher to ½ lower, July new crop contract 66-¼, rye 1¼ lower, July $1.22½-23; soybeans ¾-1⅜ lower, July $2.23⅜-⅝.

IKE TO KEEP HANDS OFF

In '60 Nominee Fight

Washington (UPI)—President Eisenhower declared Wednesday he would do nothing publicly or privately to help Richard M. Nixon, Nelson A. Rockefeller or any other Republican win the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

The President pledged himself at his news conference to take a neutral position no matter what his personal "sentiments and ideas" might be. He said he did not think it would be right for him to try to force the party to accept a man of his choice.

The president also brushed aside speculation that the selection of Nixon to open the U. S. exhibition at Moscow this summer was a political buildup to help the vice president win the nomination.

Brooks Answers Criticisms From Terry, Beck And Spelts

By Don Walton

Gov. Ralph Brooks answered his critics Wednesday.

The chief executive fired back at Sen. Terry Carpenter, Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck and Republican State Chairman Richard E. Spelts Jr.

Then, he replied to criticism directed at his speechmaking and his alleged lack of qualifications for the office he now holds.

Terry First

First came Terry.

Carpenter, Brooks said, became "enraged" at the governor because of two vetoes.

"He left a note on my desk which said that to veto the bingo bill (LB86, the first one) would be suicide. I vetoed it two days later," Brooks said.

"How did I know he was personally interested in bingo in his arena at Scottsbluff? He should have taken me into his confidence."

The other veto, the governor said, was that of the bottle club bill.

Wolf's Interest

"I still don't know what his interest was," Brooks said, "but since his corporation dealt in liquor, I suggested that he had the same interest in this that a grey wolf has in a spring lamb."

Of Carpenter, the governor added: "I have seen him 'tear a passion to tatters,' but his performance is not convincing.

"The senator has passed the 'point of no return.' He has gone up one side of the street and down the other, and he can't find a doorway in which to stay."

Entertainment

Beck, the governor said, "probably should look to his own job and not worry about the governor or the judiciary or the Legislature."

The attorney general, Brooks said, "wrote in one opinion (on the gubernatorial recount) that it is 'mandatory upon the Legislature if.' I call attention to the fact that if something is mandatory, there is no 'if.'

"They are irreconciable in their meaning, which means Mr. Beck either does not know law or does not know grammar."

As for the attorney general's statement that Brooks' election was "a flash in the pan," the governor said, "His own flash in the last election was reduced to a glimmer."

. . . An Ember . . .

Brooks added: "For Mr. Beck, we suggest this motto—In November, an ember."

The governor concluded: "Mr. Beck went to law school and so did I. My grade in constitutional law was 86. I hope Mr. Beck's was much better. Mr. Beck should have his facts and his legal training geared to each other before he speaks."

Spelts, Brooks said, is "the greatest gift the Democratic Party had in the last election."

Criticism from the GOP chairman last summer in which he said Brooks was "a failure in his life's work" caused "hundreds of people to rise in indignation," the governor said.

"Mr. Spelts' attitude is not that of a constructive statesman, but that of a small, carping politician who envisages government as something personal and not something conducted for the welfare of the entire people.

"In short, Mr. Spelts is noticeably lacking in any philosophy of government, and his carping criticism lacks the showmanship of Terry Carpenter, and is hardly a cut above that of a pipsqueak."

On other matters:

"Some people have strange ideas as to the duties of school executives.

"They think he works only with teachers and kids, but he is constantly engaged in dealing with experts in every field.

"No school superintendent can approach success if he is not an administrator in the fields of business, public relations and personnel.

"More than 1,000 speeches in more than 200 Nebraska communities acquainted people with my interest and knowledge and philosophy of Nebraska, its history, industries, resources and—above all—its future.

'Been To School'

"I do not consider a formal education a necessity for holding office or for doing a good job. For the record, however, I just want to say that I have been to school.

"I would also like to add that I am not opposed to anybody having money, but the possession of money or the inheritance of money is not a qualification for any job.

"And, I make no apologies for the fact that I am the poorest man to be elected governor of Nebraska in recent years."

More Mental Health Work Again Urged

The Mental Health Committee of the Lincoln Community Council Wednesday reaffirmed its position favoring more mental health services and appointed a subcommittee to gather additional information.

The mental health committee reaffirmed the recommendation of a study which had sought additional funds particularly for an adult mental health facility in Lincoln.

Wednesday action followed refusal of the Nebraska Legislature to appropriate funds for a psychiatric clinic for southeast Nebraska.

Don Frey, Community Council executive secretary, said attempts will be made to find other financing for development of psychiatric treatment facilities. He indicated particular attention would be given to the possibility of funds from governmental agencies.

The subcommittee named Wednesday is headed by Dr. Janet Palmer. Other members are Lester Jensen and George Day. The subcommittee will gather additional facts to demonstrate the need for added mental health clinic facilities.

Transportation Of Liquid Eggs Not Under Motor Act

The Attorney General ruled Wednesday that transportation of liquid eggs are exempt from regulation under the Nebraska Motor Carrier Act.

The ruling was sought by the State Railway Commission.

The commodity involved consists of eggs which have been broken and the yolk separated from the albumen. The egg liquid is then collected and pumped directly into a transport tank vehicle and is transported to the ultimate user.

The only processing involved is the removal of the egg from the shell and the separation of the white and the yolk.

It is obvious that there is less change of identity in liquid eggs than in dried egg powder and dried egg yolks, the opinion said, and "we must necessarily conclude that the transportation of this commodity is exempt from regulation under the Nebraska Motor Carrier Act."
